Van Hook suicide notes say he was innocent

By JUDY TAPLIN and ED GURNEY

Notes left by Richard Van Hook at the scene of his apparent suicide Monday afternoon proclaimed his innocence and said he was the victim of a massive conspiracy.

Mr. Van Hook, 36, of Collinsville, a former Collinsville teacher, died of an apparently self-inflicted gunshot wound Monday, two days before he was scheduled to be sentenced for conviction on charges of taking indecent liberties with a child, official misconduct and perjury. He faced a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison.

His body was found by relatives at 12:45 p.m. Monday on Walker's Island at Horseshoe Lake State Park southeast of Granite City, where he was known to go frequently to sit and think.

Authorities said Mr. Van Hook apparently shot himself in the mouth with a .22-caliber, four-shot derringer that belonged to his late father. The gun was found clenched in his hand.

Funeral services were scheduled at 11 a.m. today at First United Methodist Church in Collinsville.

Mr. Van Hook left three written messages which Capt. Robert Hertz, chief of operations for the Madison County Sheriff's Department, said were "indicative of suicide notes" left by other suicide victims.

One note was found in Mr. Van Hook's car, which was parked about 200 yards away, and the other two were on his person. Hertz said the sheriff's department would not release the contents of the notes, although they would be made available later for a coroner's inquest.

Mr. Van Hook was convicted Feb. 18 of five of the seven charges against him. But those close to the case said he continued to maintain his innocence.

And, according to one reliable source, the notes he left kept this same theme. Members of Mr. Van Hook's family declined to speak with a reporter Tuesday.

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber, who prosecuted Mr. Van Hook after a St. Clair County grand jury had earlier failed to indict the teacher, had no comment when he visited the scene of the tragedy Monday at Horseshoe Lake.

Weber has been criticized by some for his prosecution of Mr. Van Hook, and it has been suggested, after the former teacher's death, that he may have over-prosecuted.

For Wednesday's sentencing, Weber had planned to call 15 girls, alleged victims who had not previously testified against Mr. Van Hook. Weber was to seek a 15-year sentence at the hearing.

Tuesday, Weber said he had gone by the rules, and that a jury had convicted Mr. Van Hook. "I don't know how you can over-prosecute a case. You over-prosecute when you go to the jail and get a guy to confess when he didn't do it," Weber said.

Weber referred reporters to an open letter he had sent to area newspapers March 17 in response to a Ladonia, Mo., woman unhappy with the outcome of Mr. Van Hook's trial.

He said his feelings were still the same as those he expressed in the letter. The letter said only about one-third of the witnesses available were presented at the trial.

The letter said, "I can assure you that this prosecution was not embarked upon without the utmost consideration, deliberation and prayer."

"The people who really care about Van Hook and, particularly, his family, I believe, should, at this point, reconcile themselves to the fact that Richard Van Hook is guilty and try to give him the type of support that a sick man needs."

"Further blind support of the defendant in this case only does a disservice to the community and, in the long run, to the defendant himself."

Weber confirmed a rumor that a telephone call after Mr. Van Hook's death warned that a threat of bodily harm had been made against Weber. He said the call had come to Collinsville police Chief Nick Mamino while Weber was at Horseshoe Lake.

Jim Wallis, one of Mr. Van Hook's attorneys, did not indicate Tuesday that he thought Weber had over-prosecuted.

"To me, aggressiveness is not the issue," Wallis said. It is the state's attorney's job to be fair and uphold the law, he said.

Wallis said it is his opinion, however, that the case should not have been prosecuted. He said he had hoped that, in the court appearance scheduled for Wednesday, the judge might have set aside the verdict or granted a new trial.

Mr. Van Hook's attorneys filed a (Continued on Page 5)

'Status report' sounds more like a GC budget

By GEORGEANN MCGEE of the Press-Record

A $7.8 million Granite City general budget stripped of all "extras" could give the city a small margin of breathing room. The leanest budget possible, however, would mean no employee raises and no equipment purchases, including the replacement of worn out police cars.

The separate Wastewater Treatment Plant and Ambulance Service budgets do not fair as well, even under those spare guidelines.

The expected indebtedness of those two funds is currently estimated at more than $1 million.

The figures were released Tuesday as part of the departing finance committee's final status report. An upset at the ballot box for Aldermen Walter Milton, committee chairman, and Warren Decatur, member, altered the committee's first intention, which was to present the statistics as the city's $10.6 million tentative budget.

The committee would normally call for a special meeting to discuss the budget proposal, but that has been postponed until a new finance committee is approved.

According to Milton, the budget package is divided into two categories: the "musts" and the "wants" lists. Among those "wants" are variable salary increases of three and five percent. Both Decatur and Milton speculated earlier that city employees will receive some

Stix case to go to the jury

By PAT HAY LUTZ for the Press-Record

Former Pontoon Beach Trustee Diane Skinner admitted to being one of Thomas Brimberry's "go-fers" during his testimony in St. Louis Wednesday. Charged with conspiring to defraud the Internal Revenue Service in several instances, Skinner took the stand in his own behalf to explain his involvement in the Stix and Co. embezzlement scheme.

Although Skinner was not directly involved with the development of fictitious securities and accounts at Stix, Skinner prepared tax returns for the Brimberys and, according to government charges, "attempted to impede" an IRS investigation into Brimberry's income tax reports.

Under direct examination by Defense Attorney Stephen Rice, Skinner told of his "courier and valet" relationship with Brimberry, admitting once that Brimberry had called him at 7 a.m. "to tie his tie." Actually, Brimberry made that call to have Skinner sign Ronald Stone's name to several cashier's checks. Skinner did sign them because he "felt that it was Mr. Brimberry's money." He had taken the $138,000 in cashier's checks to Ronald Stone on an errand for Brimberry, and since they were back with Brimberry, he assumed that Stone had given permission to sign his name, Skinner testified.

California Attorney Ronald Stone testified before the grand jury in January, 1982, that the relationship between Brimberry and Skinner was that of "an employer and an employee. He (Skinner) appeared to be the 'go-fer' and Skinner verified Stone's testimony by explaining he "performed various functions at Tom's directions."

Some of the functions included purchasing cashier's checks and money orders and then depositing them in various banks or cashing Stix checks for Miller Excavating, Inc. and dividing them equally between Brimberry and Arthur Miller Jr., Skinner testified.

Skinner deposited 19 cashier's checks, each totaling less than $10,000 in April and May, 1980, the government charged, to block an "audit trail" on the money. According to law, a currency transaction report must be filed by a banking institution whenever a cashier's check for more than $10,000 is purchased.

Skinner told the jury that he had no knowledge of such a law until the trial began, and that he was merely following the "advice of James Brimberry's" instructions.

The government also charged that Skinner failed to report the interest from Brimberry's Stix accounts when he filed the Brimberys' tax returns, even though he had "sufficient knowledge" that Brimberry was receiving extra income. Skinner testified that he did not report the income because Brimberry told him that the money was not taxable income because it was in trust form.

Skinner also denied earlier testimony from Arthur Miller Jr. in which Skinner allegedly tried to thwart Miller's attempt to report Brimberry's activities to Stix and the IRS. In Miller's testimony, he claimed that he had argued with Brimberry about reporting the illicit activities and Skinner came to his home a few days later to tell him "not to do anything silly."

Skinner denied that there was any such conversation with Miller.

Defense Attorney Stephen Rice then asked, "Did he ever tell you that there was anything wrong at Stix?" and Skinner replied, "No."

During cross-examination by Assistant U.S. Attorney Terry Adelman, Skinner said that he did not file his 1978-79 income from Miller Excavating until 1982 and has yet to file that income for 1980.

"We don't have to talk about your 1980 return because you haven't filed it yet, is that correct?" Adelman asked. "That's correct," was Skinner's reply.

The jury is expected to hand down a decision in the Massa-Skinner trial on Friday.

BULLETIN

Quad-Cityans need to boil their water before drinking it or using it in cooking, it was announced at 10:40 a.m. today by Illinois-American Water Co.

The boil order applies to the entire Quad-City area—Venice, Madison, Granite City and the Pontoon Beach and Mitchell water districts.

Manager Robert Jackson said water pressure has dropped so low due to an electrical power outage that the water has become discolored and unsafe.

He estimated that the boil order will remain in effect for about two days, but stressed that the precaution of boiling should be followed indefinitely until the order has been cancelled.

Six arrests clear 207 GC burglaries

"They always took something, even if it wasn't worth much," a Granite City detective said Wednesday reviewing the arrests of five local men whose apprehension cleared up a total of 199 auto and truck burglaries and eight residential burglaries in Granite City alone.

One of the loot taken in the local burglaries was recovered. "They just sold the stuff as fast as they got it," the detective said.

Certain items with an estimated value of $30,000, including firearms, computer equipment and office equipment, have been recovered by investigators from a burglary allegedly committed by some or all of the suspects in Bethalto.

Other burglaries are believed to have occurred in Collinsville, Maryville, Glen Carbon and near Fairview Heights.

The case was under investigation for several weeks prior to the first arrests being made less than two weeks ago.

Success of the official inquiry was made possible through a cooperative joint effort of the Madison County Sheriff's Department, Illinois Department of Criminal Investigation, Granite City police and other involved departments. Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer said Wednesday.

Four men, including three suspects from Granite City and one from Edwardsville, have pleaded guilty to burglary-related charges.

Three were sentenced to prison in appearances last Friday before Chief Criminal Court Judge Philip J. Rarick in Edwardsville. They are:

David Kuehnle, 18, of 2015 Washington Ave., who pleaded guilty to seven counts of burglary and one count of theft over $300. He received concurrent sentences of eight years in prison on all counts.

His brother, Darrell Kuehnle, 20, of 2015 Washington Ave., who pleaded guilty to six counts of burglary, one felony count of theft and one count of attempted burglary. He received concurrent sentences of five years in prison on each count.

Gary Lee Askew, 28, of Edwardsville, who pleaded guilty to nine counts of burglary and one count of attempted burglary. An additional burglary count was dismissed. He received a 12-year prison sentence on one count and concurrent sentences of seven years on the remaining counts.

The fourth man, Jerry Nishek, 37, of 2164 Lee Ave., also pleaded guilty to one count of burglary last Friday, but his sentencing was delayed, pending preparation of a presentencing report. Two additional suspects in the case, who are scheduled to appear in court for preliminary hearings May 6, also were arrested here on burglary warrants last week.

They are Richard M. Wilson, 43, of 2010 Grand Ave., who is charged with one count each of burglary, attempted burglary and felony theft, and Martin E. Glaspie Jr., 22, of 4707 Kirkpatrick Homes, charged with two counts of burglary.

In the auto-truck burglaries here, most of which were allegedly committed in 1982, the Granite City investigator said the suspects primarily were after tape decks, radios, speakers and batteries.

Granite City's detectives got their first break in the case following a March 29 burglary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Briggs, 3207 Erin

Historic buildings on spring House Tour

By DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

The Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society has selected the Granite City Public Library and Emerson School to be included in the annual spring House Tour May 15, along with six downtown houses.

Both historic buildings have served the community for many years. The library was organized by the city council in 1912 and, before that time, the Granite City Woman's Club, a society for self improvement, borrowed a collection of 50 books from the State Extension Library at Springfield, and placed them in Miss Ann Krug's Florist Shop on Delmar Avenue. Miss Krug, an acting librarian, circulated these books to the public from an old trunk.

Later when the city council created a library, the borrowed collection was discontinued. The Woman's Club then joined forces with the public library board asking for a book shower and assisted the women of the library board in canvassing the city and collecting about 300 books, which were donated.

The first board of directors appointed by Mayor M. E. Kirkpatrick were Daniel J. Murphy, W. F. Moore, Thomas Leyden, L. P. Frohardt, Mrs. Charles Stewart, J. T. Bramlette, J. B. Judd, Mrs. William Champion, and Olive B. Stallings.

Since there were no funds for a building, the search began for suitable quarters and John B. Judd and Thomas Gortman offered a suite of rooms on the second floor of their building on 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, rent free.

The initial board meeting was held May 24, 1912, and the first officers elected included, D. J. Murphy, president, John Judd, vice-president and Olive B. Stallings, secretary.

With a few more than 300 books and a few magazines, Miss Nina Steinhilber, as librarian, opened the facility to the public on Dec. 16, 1912.

As the need for more space became evident, the library eventually moved to the Karandoff building on Niedringhaus Avenue, across from the former post office site, where it remained for eight years, and the new system of classification was instituted.

Open bids Friday for Madison Ave. surfacing

The Illinois Department of Transportation will open bids Friday for resurfacing of Madison Avenue from Second Street in Madison to 20th Street in Granite City, a distance of 1.61 miles.

Also among the projects for which bids are to be accepted Friday is demolition of the eastbound and westbound truck weigh stations on Interstate 55-70 a mile west of Collinsville. Other area work to be bid includes: construction of a storm water pump station and retention basin on the new Interstate 255 in St. Clair County from near the northwest city limits of Caseyville; cleaning and painting of dual steel bridges on Interstate 55-70 in East St. Louis; furnishing water lines for the Olin water main relocation on Broadway and Biscayne streets in Alton; installation of electronically controlled security gates at Civic Memorial Airport in Bethalto; reconstruction of the intersection of Collinsville Road and Keebler Avenue in Collinsville, and seal coating 5.36 miles of pavement on various routes in Madison and St. Clair counties.

The projects are among approximately $88 million of work for which bids will be opened in Springfield Friday, including $9 million for airports and $1 million for mine reclamation projects.

Lions district convention attracts 500

More than 500 delegates representing 51 Lions Clubs of Illinois District 1-G came together to meet in Edwardsville last week for their 31st annual convention. The convention was hosted by the Pontoon Beach Lions Club, home club of District Governor Donald D. Patrick, with assistance from the Edwardsville Lions Club and Pontoon Beach Lions Club. The convention was held at the SIUE University Center in Edwardsville.

The convention began on Saturday evening with a Past District Governor's Recognition Dinner with an entertainment program given by Jean Kitzell, a popular St. Louis jazz entertainer. Miss Kitzell's program consisted of a musical history of jazz in the United States.

Following dinner and entertainment, the Lions and their wives were treated to the Governor's Ball, with music provided by Miss Kitzell and her New Riverband Band from the riverboat Robert E. Lee, a restaurant-lounge moored on the Mississippi River just below the Gateway Arch.

Following the Governor's Ball, the Pontoon Beach Lions Club hosted a hospitality room at the Edwardsville Holiday Inn to complete the evening's activities.

The convention came back to order on Sunday afternoon with new club officer's training seminars, forums, ladies' program and the men's business session.

The convention came to an end on Sunday evening with the convention banquet which was highlighted with the micrology ceremony, giving remembrance to deceased Lions of the past year, presentation of the Club of the Year Awards, keynote address given by International Director Donald Banker of Rolling Hills, Calif., and the State of the District address given by Governor Patrick.

STANDING OVATION is given Lions District 1-G Governor Donald Patrick of Pontoon Beach at the end of the Lions district convention last week at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The ovation followed Patrick's State of the District Address, which brought the convention to a close.

State preparing to end cities' revenue share, general assistance, health care

A dozen bills introduced by the administration to implement the 1984 budget without tax increases give Illinois legislators "a clear choice between maintaining budget cuts and providing adequate services for Illinoisans," in the opinion of Gov. James R. Thompson.

"The measures introduced in the Senate this month provide a stark contrast of what we can do for our people without additional revenue, and what we can do with reasonable increases," the governor said.

"This choice now faces legislators — do we abolish revenue sharing for municipalities, a loss of $202 million? Do we take away the $144 million general assistance grant to support 139,000 of our fellow citizens?"

"Do we eliminate payments for medical assistance to those 18 and older who are not otherwise eligible for basic maintenance grants?"

"If we are a compassionate society, the answer has to be that we will pay a little more to help those in need," he commented.

Thompson said the bills make legislative changes that are necessary to help implement the July 1983 budget with no new revenue from a tax increase.

Changes contained in the bills total $657.1 million in reductions. He said other changes would be made through administrative changes or by lowered appropriation levels to allow the state to meet the $8.33 billion general funds spending level contained in the "no tax" 1984 budget.

The 12 bills introduced to implement the 1984 budget include:

Eliminate state guardianship and advocacy services, $2.6 million.

End the Arts Council, $2.7 million.

Eliminate payments for medical assistance to persons 18 and older who are not otherwise eligible for basic maintenance grants, and the program for aid to the medically indigent, change rates for payments to nursing homes, and limit the category of services for which medical payments will be made. Ending of benefits for 33,000 people, $108 million.

Reduce state support for highway construction by reducing transfers of taxes collected during 1983-84 into the road fund by $7.32 million and cut such transfers into the motor fuel fund by $33.72 million.

Eliminate state employee health insurance contribution by the state toward dependent health coverage, and require state employees to contribute toward their health coverage in the amount that the fiscal 1984 cost of coverage exceeds that cost for the previous year, $14 million.

Define a minor as a person under age 18 and limit the Department of Children and Family Services to providing welfare services to minors, $7.4 million.

Eliminate the requirement that the state pay for bonuses to assessors, deputy assessors and members of Boards of Review and end the state's share of salaries for supervisors of assessment, $1.4 million.

Delete the salary of firefighting trainees as a reimbursement expense and authorize full reimbursement of expenses (now half), $500,000.

Allow the Department of Veterans' Affairs to limit future admissions to the Illinois Veterans Home, $500,000.

Remove limits on payments of the state's expenses in connection with personal property replacement tax collection and distribution from the personal property tax replacement fund, $1 million.

Eliminate the state's participation in payment for and administration of general assistance, make general assistance discretionary with local government units. Eliminate the $144 monthly grant supporting 139,000 recipients, $276 million.

And suspend local revenue sharing for a year $202 million.

"These are just some of the changes we must implement to fulfill our commitment to a balanced budget with no new revenues."

"We'll also have to cut aid to education by $314 million, reduce our ability to supervise parolees from prison, and cut funding for the care of people in state institutions," the governor said. "But this does not have to happen, nor should it."

MATH FINALS SET FOR SATURDAY

Nearly 2,000 of the state's best mathematics students are regional winners in the third annual Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics contest and will go on to finals in Normal on Saturday. Included are students from Granite City North.

The competition will take place at Illinois State University, culminating months of coaching among 5,000 students from 225 high schools.

$230 auction for youth camp

A white elephant auction held by the Ladies-in-Action Group at the First Pentecostal Church Monday night raised $230 to help defray the expenses of young people wanting to attend a summer youth camp.

Between 20 and 25 junior and senior high school age youth from the local church are expected to attend in the camping experience, scheduled the last two weeks in June at Mount Vernon, Ill. Dorothy Lakin served as auctioneer for the sale. The funds contributed represent the amount needed for seven young people to attend the camp, according to Bonnie Davis, group secretary.

Additional funds for the project will be sought through a rummage and bake sale, taking place from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., Thursday and Friday, May 5 and 6, at the church. Mrs. Davis said.

Scripture verses were recited by Mrs. Lakin and prayer was offered.

In other business, plans were made for a May 21 graduation dinner party, honoring high school seniors, and a financial report was given by Bertha Dix, treasurer.

Due to a conflict with the Memorial Day weekend, the group elected to hold its next meeting May 23. Dorothy Dickerson, president, reported.

Refreshments were served by Marge Glasgow and Lillian Barton to those mentioned and to members Mary Buday, Joanne Buday, Opal Orrell, Norma Tolbert, Omie Farless, Marie Murphy, Rose Pinkston and Dot Smith. Guests present were Nola Heiney, Betty Wells, Lela Blankenship, Almata Haynes, Jo Raynor, Angela Pinkston and Melinda Davis.

2 get $1.3 million each in lotto play

State Lottery computers indicate that two lotto players matched all six numbers April 23.

Those two players will share the lotto grand prize pool, and each will win $1,372,210, payable at a rate of $68,610 a year for 20 years.

Michael J. Jones, lottery superintendent, said that although the lottery's computers can tell the number of winners in each lotto prize category, they cannot identify individual winners because players are not asked for their names when they play lotto.

Jones said the winner numbers were 10, 12, 13, 16, 18 and 27.

Lotto players who have those winning numbers on their tickets are to immediately phone toll-free 1-800-525-8866.

Jones pointed out that the alternate grand prize number, 04, does not apply to the lotto grand prize.

The prizes of $1,372,210 will be the largest ever awarded by the Illinois State Lottery. The next largest prize was the $1,088,900 won March 26 by two Chicago area lotto players.

The lotto grand prize reached such a major sum because there had not been a grand prize winner since March 26. When there is no grand prize winner, approximately 80 percent of a week's grand prize pool rolls over to the next week. There has been grand prize rollovers from the selections of April 2, 9 and 16.

In addition to the grand prize winners, 146 lotto players matched five of the six winning numbers to share the second prize pool, and each received $1,043.

There were 7,486 players who matched four of the six winning numbers to share the third prize pool, each getting $31.

Lead reassurance, with caution

Presence of iron and zinc in local air may inhibit lead absorption, preventing a health threat here despite high lead levels in the ground. This is the tentative conclusion of state investigators who have found a variance between blood and dirt tests.

Sampling in 1976, 1979 and late 1982 shows no more lead in Quad-City than in people in other Illinois communities. This being the case, there is no immediate problem—other than the continuing need to make sure children do not munch on soil.

The studies and tests have worthy goals and we compliment Illinois environmental and health officials for pursuing the topic.

It has been clear for a number of years that excessive lead can harm people, particularly youngsters, and that a lot of lead could be found in dirt in this community.

Now, the problem or non-problem has been found to center around lead-related industrial property, with the impact diminishing in direct relation to the distance from the smelter facilities.

As is usually the case, you read all of this here first. Not only was the new state study reported in the Press-Record April 21, a day before anywhere else, but we have presented extensive information on the subject over a long period.

Since there have been airborne lead violations, and since some lead has been found in vegetable samples, tighter procedures are in order.

Industrial officials are meeting with an assistant Illinois attorney general to draw up a written agreement on the steps that should be taken to prevent dust and water containing lead from leaving manufacturing sites. Additional actions also may be considered.

In the meantime, well water should be tested, garden items should be thoroughly washed, and gardeners should have their soil checked periodically to make sure there are adequate levels of acidity and phosphorus.

It is reassuring to learn from Food and Drug Administration statistics that the amount of lead a person would get from eating these vegetables is only a fraction of the lead that people everywhere consume every day from a normal diet. Nevertheless, close attention to lead pollution developments is justified and we will make a point of keeping the public up-to-date as more becomes known.

Is sharing of justice possible?

Nine hundred years ago in England, a landowner unjustly deprived of his property had five days to round up an army and retake his property by storm. If the landowner failed, his property became the lawful property of the usurper.

As late as the 1600s in this country, there were instances where those accused of crimes were thrown, with hands and feet bound, into tanks of water. If they floated, they were judged guilty and hung. If they sank, they were declared innocent and, of course, drowned.

Today, such laws are considered barbaric. Laws are supposed to be the tools used by society to see that justice is done and that what the community considers right and fair takes place.

Law Day, May 1, is set aside to honor the place of law in our lives and to recognize that only by participating can we strengthen the laws and the legal system.

Volunteers from the courts and bar associations are spending the day tomorrow in mock trials at schools and the courthouse, showing how the legal system works and its importance to all citizens.

Citizen participation in the making of important decisions forced such changes as civil rights, laws regulating labor and businesses, rights for the handicapped and environmental protection laws. Citizens have the right to help determine the meaning of justice.

Citizens are given their shares in America as an inheritance which has increased in value for two centuries. The shares—freedom of speech, the right to trial by jury, the right to privacy, the guarantee of equal treatment under the law, the benefit of laws regulating labor, pollution and business, and the right to be presumed innocent until proven guilty, among hundreds of others—give every citizen a vested interest in American justice.

Deserved recognition by diocese

It is an honor for the Quad-City area that one of its native sons, Monsignor Paul Sheridan, has been named administrator of the 18,000-member Catholic Diocese of Springfield, one of three in Illinois.

His interim election will remain in effect for a number of months while a decision is being made on the next bishop, to replace the late Bishop Joseph McNicholas.

The monsignor's extensive study in Rome has included the attainment of a doctorate degree. Chancellor of the local diocese for nine years, he was vice-chancellor for 13 years before that.

This background, along with service as a parish assistant pastor for four years, qualifies him eminently for his new responsibilities.

'Carrier' concept for pipelines

With natural gas costs rising and threatening to go much higher, there is local interest in the legislation just introduced by the two U.S. senators from Illinois, Alan J. Dixon and Charles H. Percy. Its goal is to reduce some consumer bills for gas by as much as 25 percent.

Natural Gas Consumer Access Amendments of 1983 would change the status of gas pipelines to that of common carrier. This would introduce competition to that segment of the natural gas industry, and increase the ability of distributors to purchase, directly from producers, the lowest-priced gas of acceptable quality.

The legislation was originated by the Illinois Commerce Commission in consultation with Illinois congressmen. A similar bill has been introduced in the U.S. House by Cong. Paul Simon and Cong. Thomas Corcoran.

The "Illinois plan" would allow for more direct sales between distributors and producers to effect a transition to increased competition.

As Sen. Dixon points out, "There are increasing supplies of natural gas, and the demand is lessening. But still the price of gas has continued to rise. Our proposal would allow local utilities to buy gas from producers instead of the current practice of buying it from pipelines.

"The plan would be compatible with any deregulatory action Congress might take regarding natural gas. But it also can stand alone, to bring about a significant reduction in the prices people pay to heat their homes."

Because some of the pipeline companies seemed to be taking undue advantage of near-monopoly conditions in the past, a good case can be made that they have forfeited the right to such a privileged status. They should no longer be both the seller and carrier linking producing states with regions that lack the local heating fuel.

We wish success to Sen. Dixon, Sen. Percy, Cong. Simon and Cong. Corcoran in this effort to aid home owners.

Generous pensions for federal employees

To the Editor:

Mr. Jones makes more money each year than you do 35 percent more. While you must wait until age 65 to retire with full pension benefits, he can retire with full benefits under his system 10 years earlier, at 55.

His pension will be 56 percent of his pretax salary, yours, most likely, will be only 30 percent. His office is larger than yours.

It is almost impossible to fire Mr. Jones and he isn't the least bit afraid of losing his job because of the recession or foreign competition.

Oh, one last thing. Mr. Jones would like to thank you for paying his salary and his handsome pension plan.

That's right, Mr. Jones works for the federal government. He's a bureaucrat.

Before you can begin to pay the rent, put food on the table, or make the car payments, Uncle Sam withholds enough of your money to pay Mr. Jones.

Actually, you and your neighbors finance the high salaries and unbeatable pensions of 2,853,863 Mr. Jones. That is how many federal bureaucrats the taxpayer must support these days. And that number excludes military personnel.

You may be a little annoyed, with things so tight, that your family budget is paying the salaries of bureaucrats who make more money than you do. Well, there's more. The pensions paid out to retired federal employees are indexed to rise with inflation.

Only half of the workers in the private sector have a pension at all, and for those who do, only three percent are indexed to inflation.

The federal government's pension plan is so generous that more than 100,000 retired bureaucrats are now getting more money in their retirement checks than they ever made while working.

It helps, of course, that the federal government's contribution to the bureaucrats' retirement system represents 33 percent of payroll, compared to an average of 17 percent contribution by employers in the private sector.

Now, let's make one thing clear. Private employers are not paying pennies when they fail to match the generous pay and pensions granted federal employees.

They have to earn every nickel of employee pay and pension benefits by selling products or services. The federal government simply reaches out into the taxpayers' pockets and takes what it needs.

With all those nice salaries and pensions, it should be no surprise that the

Washington, D.C., area has a higher proportion of households earning more than $50,000 per year than any other city in the country.

While the rest of the country is shelling out over $61 billion to pay for civilian federal employees—excluding postal workers, who average more than $2,000 a year—and an additional $21 billion for pension and disability payments, there is even more to look forward to: a half-trillion-dollar unfunded liability for the Civil Service Retirement System.

As you prepared your federal income tax this year and considered the federal salaries and pensions that you pay for, you may have wondered about these civil servants. Do they work for us, or do we work for them?

Truck drivers only trying to make a living

To the Editor:

In your Thursday, April 21, Press-Record, there was an article stating, "The railroad says Illinois drivers are slated to pay truckers costs."

Of course it's obvious why they would make this claim. If the truckers are put out of business, the railroads stand to haul the freight the truckers are going to be losing.

If the taxes go up, we'll all be paying a little more in taxes than we do now. But if the truckers are forced to pay a weight distance tax, this does not put the independent truckers completely out of business, the consumer will still pay the difference at the supermarket. Because of the increase in fees to the truck drivers, they, in turn, will have to raise their freight prices so the consumer will be making up for it at the price of higher products in the stores.

This all seems to be a continuous treadmill. The state keeps raising its license fees and road taxes so the truckers have no recourse but to raise their costs on freight. Where is it all going to end?

Everyone keeps complaining about the high unemployment and large welfare roles. If the independent truckers are put out of business, where do the people think they will have to go to support their families, but to one of those. These are a proud lot of men who ask only to be self-supporting. Not to be taking government handouts.

The governor is supposed to be helping the people find jobs, not making it impossible for them to keep them.

Citizen utility board would pay mail costs

To the Editor:

Illinois Power, in its recent Collinsville press release, made its opposition to citizen utility boards clear, but it did so with an attack that ignores the facts.

It complained that its mailings cost 17-cents to send one ounce of literature to customers and that additional CUB inserts would raise its cost to 39-cents. The Illinois Power spokesman then added, "We don't think it is fair to pass that cost on to our customers."

By deliberately creating the misimpression that CUB's utility bill mail inserts would increase costs for all customers, Illinois Power is not dealing straight with the facts.

The CUB legislation itself contains a specific provision as follows:

"(11-7)—The CUB shall promptly reimburse each public utility for all reasonable costs incurred by the public utility in complying with this section above the utility's normal billing costs."

With this specific requirement in the legislation, that CUB, not the utilities or their customers, will pay for any extra mailing costs, why is Illinois Power trying to mislead on the issue of mailing costs?

Is it deliberately ignoring the specific wording of the legislation in order to mislead the public? Or is it simply stating its opinion on CUB while being ignorant of what the legislation provides?

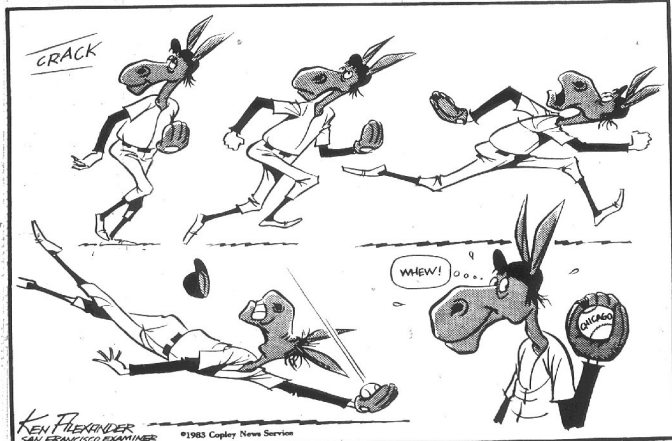

Either way, the public is being misled by this attack. Does Illinois Power not want to see a strong advocate established to represent consumers in utility rate hike hearings?

It and the other utilities will be trying hard to weaken CUB during the "June madness" in the legislature.

The utilities are still trying to delay, stall and knock out key provisions of the CUB legislation that Illinois voters overwhelmingly recommended in the April elections with a statewide majority of 84.7 percent.

lengthy series of motions last week asking Madison County Associate Judge Ed Ferguson to take one of those two steps.

Tuesday, Wallis said it does not appear likely that Mr. Van Hook's conviction could be reversed after his death. But Wallis said he is consulting the lawbooks. "If there is something to be done, we'll do it."

Pending charges were dismissed Tuesday.

Wallis noted that Mr. Van Hook had pleaded not guilty, went all the way through the trial and maintained his innocence. "And as far as I know, he never at any time wavered in that," Wallis said.

"My own feeling is the state could not prove him guilty," he said. "That has been my feeling from the beginning."

Wallis said Mr. Van Hook's death was "a personal grief to me and something that represents a waste." He said he does not think the media has adequately presented the fact that while Mr. Van Hook was found guilty on five counts, the jury found him innocent on two others — one count of taking indecent liberties with a child and one count of perjury. The sheriff's department said Mr. Van Hook had taken his two children to school Monday morning, but had failed to return to his home on Emelle Court in Collinsville.

Convinced family members, including his wife, Sandra, then went to the area of Horseshoe Lake Mr. Van Hook had been known to frequent.

The family readily spotted the white and blue Dodge Colt Mr. Van Hook had driven, according to Hertz. The car was parked at a picnic area on Walker's Island, just west of the causeway.

"I think once they found the car, and he wasn't there, they figured something was wrong," Hertz said.

Illinois Department of Conservation employees and friends of the family were involved in the search. An IDOC worker told reporters he hunted on another day of the search for about two hours before Mr. Van Hook was found by his family. IDOC employees then contacted the sheriff's department.

Hertz said Mr. Van Hook's body was about 20 feet above the Walker's Island east shoreline, approximately 200 yards south of a picnic area and the west end of the causeway. Hertz said there was no indication that Mr. Van Hook's death was anything but a suicide.

The victim was pronounced dead at the scene by deputy coroner Dick Mizell of Granite City.

While fishermen lined the causeway, basking in the warmth of a spring day and seemingly oblivious to the drama nearby, Mr. Van Hook's body was placed in an IDOC truck and brought through a muddy field to firmer ground, where a causeway was waiting.

Mr. Van Hook was a teacher in the Collinsville schools from 1971 until last year. He taught at North Junior High School, the Vandallia high school campus and Caseyville Elementary School.

After he was indicted by a Madison County grand jury in March, 1982, he was reassigned to non-teaching jobs until after his conviction, when he was fired by the school board.

Mr. Van Hook served as a swimming and diving coach at the Paddler Swim Club, the Town and Country Gaslight Swim Clubs at Collinsville, and the Dorchester and Oak Hill Swim Clubs in Belleville.

Six arrests

Drive, when a pickup truck occupied by three men was seen pulling out of the Briggs' driveway.

A neighbor knew Mr. and Mrs. Briggs were out of town and the couple's son, who discovered the house had been entered. Immediately determined to be missing were a microwave oven, a color television and some jewelry.

Shortly after the initial report, an officer located a truck matching the description of the vehicle being sought in the burglary at the rear of a dwelling in the 2000 block of Washington Avenue.

In the truck were a decorative green glass lamp, a miniature vase and a bath towel, all believed to have been taken from the Briggs' dwelling.

The vehicle's Missouri license plate was checked and it was learned the truck, which had a punched ignition, was reported stolen March 28 in St.

Louis. When squad cars arrived, a man was seen running from the vehicle by Granite City Steel security guard and a description was circulated, but he escaped.

The Briggs burglary and a March 31 burglary at the Dean Boyer home, 30 Miami Court, have been attributed to the suspects, the detective said.

Other Granite City residential burglaries so far cleared by the arrests occurred.

Jan. 19 at the home of Ruby Mathenia, 2224 Edwards St.; Jan. 21, Don Scheyer, 3312 Iowa Lane; Jan. 24, Ed Kube, 1814 Grand Ave.; Jan. 27, Henry Ross, 11 Terrace Lane; Jan. 28, Donald Wickham, 13 Briarcliff Drive; and Oct. 1, 1982, at the home of Julian Dittich, 1818 Brown Ave.

There appears to be no pattern in the burglary of autos, trucks and vans in Granite City, which are reported now cleared by the arrests, although Maryville Road, Parkway Drive, the Briarcliff area and Village Lane frequently crop up on the list.

Among the cases now considered cleared, 184 occurred in 1982 and 15 are from this year, the detective said.

The current month—April—has the lowest figure among the cleared burglaries, with only a single case being cleared.

In December, 1982, 38 burglaries were cleared. The second highest month was August with 25, followed by May, when 17 were cleared, and January, with 14 cases cleared.

The perseverance and dedication of the investigating officers were key factors in breaking the case, law enforcement officials state.

type of wage hike. Salaries have been frozen for a year.

A three percent increase would mean $126,823 added to the general fund, shifting it from a surplus figure to a deficit of about $63,000.

Among other "wants" are a full-time custodian for the city hall, a new ambulance, convention expenses for department heads, protective vests for policemen, new hose for firefighters, a street sweeper and snowplow for the Street Department and a tractor grass mower to trim growth in city drainage ponds.

The total want list could add more than $600,000 to the budget requests. The $2.5 million Wastewater Treatment Plant budget does not take into account the city's $176,000 share of pump station renovations performed by the St. Louis Army Corps of Engineers. Also to be considered are about $2 million in repairs and renovations needed at the wastewater plant or $500,000 needed to improve sludge processing.

"We'll already be showing a deficit of $777,690 at the sewage treatment plant," Decatur said. "Then you add those other things up, I don't know where it will all come from without raising user fees."

Departing suggestions from Decatur included separating the city from the sewage plant, investigating an imbalance levy to correct budget problems there, and making employees partially responsible for escalating monthly medical costs that have risen from $112 to $230 per month.

Aldermen have been looking into other means of trash disposal for the past several months, since they anticipated the higher sludge hauling charges. In the future, the Wastewater Plant may be redesigned to allow a drier and lighter type of sludge, which would be less expensive to deposit in a landfill.

SCA will bid for trash contract

Milam East Division of SCA Services of Illinois, Inc., will be among the bidders trying for the city's 1983-84 trash hauling and landfill contract, according to Dave Houser, general manager.

A letter sent to Mayor Paul Schuler April 15 said SCA Services does not wish to renew or extend its current contract with the city does not indicate the company has taken itself out of the competition for the city contract, he said this week.

The company was, rather, formally notifying the city 60 days before the contract was due to expire that SCA does not want to renew its option for three more years under the current contract conditions. "All we are doing is opening up the terms," Houser said.

Under those terms, SCA Services would have received an automatic five percent increase for services. The current contract, however, does not define specific charges for hauling Wastewater Plant sludge, which has been a point of legal action between the city and SCA Services. The city's finance committee has estimated sludge landfill charges alone could cost $130,000 for the coming year. The city now pays SCA Services $556,923 for its combined trash hauling services and use of its landfill for sludge disposal.

Houser emphasized his company has no intention of leaving the area or withdrawing other services it provides here, in addition to its services for the city.

GC Council Action
at a glance

The Granite City Council Tuesday night approved expenses for Mayor Paul Schuler and Lance Callis, former city attorney, to go to Washington, D.C., to seek sewer repair funds. Expenses will be $300 plus air fare. They and an aide to U.S. Rep. Melvin Price will meet May 3 with Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) representatives. Earlier, state and federal disaster aid officials rejected the city's application for disaster funds to repair breaks the city claims were caused by winter flooding. Last week, the mayor estimated sewer repairs could cost $700,000 to $1 million.

Fourth Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak, chairman of the street and alley committee, said two other sewer breaks have occurred since last week. The breaks are located on Maryville Road and Joy Avenue.

State water control officials have asked the city to respond with a timetable for the Granite City Wastewater Treatment Plant to correct equipment deficiencies found there during the state's final grant inspection. Those corrections, including many structural problems, are estimated to cost between $1 to $2 million. Third Ward Alderman Paul Fisk, wastewater plant chairman, told the council it was soon going to have to decide what action to take on a sewer rate increase, before the corrective steps could be taken. Federal funds administered by the state financed the major portion of the plant construction, and they could require the money be paid back if the plant does not meet its final construction inspection.

First Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish, chairman of the inactive air pollution committee, was angered by a "lack of communications" between the city and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, which reported high levels of lead in soil here. "We really don't know how serious it is," Skubish stated. According to the alderman, he was upset that newspaper accounts of the report appeared before the city was notified of the results. A Collinsville IEPA staff member, however, had delivered a press release on the report to Mayor Paul Schuler's office last week, on the same day the information was released to the public. As of Wednesday, however, it appeared that the IEPA had not sent the city a copy of the full report, nor had the city called to request a copy from the IEPA. The 50-page report shows neighborhoods where high lead levels were found and explains what precautions residents should take.

Ward Three, and Donald E. Garrett, Ward Four, both re-elected for another term.

The official canvass report listed:

Ward One — Paul Ashford received 384 votes instead of 300 previously reported; Alfred Endicott, 15, and Frank Marsala, 224, the same count as given election night.

Ward Two — the final count for Robert Grieve was 254 instead of 265; Thomas Grieve 227 as compared to 226, and Jim Riskovsky 110 as opposed to 109.

Ward Three — registered voters for William Gushieff, 43 less votes than the previous total of 311, and W. F. "Mick" Strange received 223, the figure quoted election night.

Donald Garrett, unopposed for alderman of Ward Four, received a total of 161 votes, 40 more votes than was first reported.

After the newly-elected officials were seated, Mayor Sasyk invited all aldermen, including former council members, to attend the next meeting on May 10, which will be followed by an appreciation and retirement party.

In other business, Andrew Miosky was appointed assistant city attorney to replace Michael Bilbrey, who resigned the position earlier this year, and Ray Kleissle was named city humane officer, replacing Vasil Graville, who resigned in August of last year.

Committee told of sump pumps running into county's sewers

By NANCY WEIL of the Press-Record

Four residents of Blue Spruce Court were found to have sump pumps hooked up to Madison County sanitary sewer lines to force storm water from their homes — a finding that has prompted the county's sewer committee to make an appeal to the residents to assist the residents.

Employees of Special Service Area One noticed a sewer line running through the sewer lines last week. A conducted a door-to-door inspection, superintendent Gene Futch told the committee Wednesday.

Residents in the Blue Spruce Court area are constantly plagued with flooded basements and yards, a situation that leads them to violate the law by pushing water into the sewer system. Using sump pumps to relieve the flooding is considered an illegal tap-on and, for each day the pumping continues after the infraction is noted, residents could be forced to pay a $500 fine.

But Nameoki Township Trustee Helen Hawkins said at Wednesday's sewer committee meeting specifically to make an appeal to the residents to assist the residents.

She said she has been forced to allow her basement to flood because pumping water into the back yard was ineffective. Water pumped outside saturated the yard and started to pour back into her basement, she said.

There also is the problem of flooding neighbors' yards, she added.

Another alternative is to run hoses into the basement and pump water down the street and into Dobrey Slough, but that violates a Nameoki Township ordinance.

Mrs. Hawkins said that residents of that area become desperate and turn to the illegal tap-on method because they don't want to flood their yards, their neighbors' or violate the ordinance. "You're really asking them to flood themselves (by unhooking the sump pumps)," she told the committee.

Mrs. Hawkins asked the committee to seek assistance for the area from the county to allow residents to pump water into the streets. In the past, residents have been given "special consideration" and were allowed to pump water into the streets to the slough, she said.

Ainad Temple to honor Bob Hardy

With more than 125 candidates expected on Ceremonial Day, Saturday, April 30, Potentate Bill Parker of Fairfield, leader of the nearly 9,000 Nobles of Ainad, has named the day in honor of Past Potentate Bob Hardy who served the temple in 1976. The event will be at the Mosque in East St. Louis, and a large crowd of nobles are expected to be there to honor Hardy.

Past Potentate Hardy is known voice of KMOX radio of St. Louis, but his Masonic credentials stretch throughout all of the 185 temples of Shriners. His work locally with the temple was started when he joined the clowns after being made a Shriner, then in 1965 Potentate Frank Connor, appointed him in line, and he became the potentate in 1976.

Hardy presently serves on the Imperial Shrine Public Relations Committee. The Illinois Grand Lodge P. R. Committee, put together the entertainment for the 33rd-degree session that was held in St. Louis last year, and he serves with the Council of Deliberation of the Illinois Scottish Rite, is a past member of the Board of Governors of the Shriner's Hospital, St. Louis Unit, a vice-president of the St. Louis Foundation Board, board member of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Highland, where he lives, a past president of the St. Louis Press Club, and a board member of the Memorial Hospital of Belleville, and is also a 33rd-degree Mason.

He serves as a speaker at many functions, such as the Grand Masters Breakfast for Missouri.

BOB HARDY

A special guest that day will be Past Potentate Rudolph Placek of Richmond, Ind., who will return to Ainad where he served in 1933. Along with Placek, an invitation has been sent to the more than 100 Nobles of Ainad who have been Nobles for 50 years or more, to be present to be with Past Potentate Placek and to help honor Past Potentate Bob Hardy.

The day starts at 7:30 a.m. and finished at 6:30 p.m. after the candidates have received their Pz, met the officers, and had dinner with new noble friends. One of the top programs of the day is the visitation by the Novice to the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children, St. Louis Unit, 2001 South Lindbergh, where there are more than 10,000 children on the active patients rolls, and last year more than 1800 applications were received.

Coast Guard user fee plan is introduced

Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Hanford Dole has transmitted to Congress legislation to repeal the prohibition under Section 331 of Title 46, U.S. Code, against charging for certain services to vessels.

Charges are presently banned for services which include inspection, measurement, documentation, and recording of instruments of title of a vessel of the U.S., licensing of an operator or a merchant of a vessel, and certification of a merchant seaman.

Additionally, the proposal would allow the Coast Guard to establish fees for issuance of a permit for a private aid to navigation, issuance of a regatta permit and for conducting regatta patrols.

Fees could also be established for inspection of a liquid bulk facility, for inspection of hazardous cargo transfers, and for domestic icebreaking upon request.

The proposed fees must be published, with an opportunity for public comment.

The Department of Transportation expects that, unlike previous attempts, this legislation will be introduced in Congress. No previous efforts to collect Coast Guard user fees submitted by the administration were introduced in the 97th Congress.

Some Members of that Congress referred to the proposal as being "ill-advised and misguided." But the president's budget request for October 1983-September 1984 assumes receipt of $8 million in Coast Guard user fees for direct services.

MELISSA PENNELL, center, will play the lead role of Reno Sweeney in "Anything Goes," a musical comedy to be staged at Granite City High School South, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. Also pictured are her four angels, from left, Debbie Rozyczki, Jody Graybill, Beth Bodnam and Karen Thomason. Tickets are available from any cast member or at the door for $1.50 for students and $3 for adults. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. Thursday and 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Series of dog shooting must stop, Nameoki Township officials declare

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

A series of dog shootings during the last three weeks which, in several instances have been fatal, has prompted Nameoki Township authorities to warn residents there to watch for anyone with a pellet gun.

Residents are being urged to call the Madison County sheriff's office if they see anyone with a pellet gun, or notice anyone acting suspiciously.

Someone is "going around shooting German shepherds, collies and Irish setters," part-time dogcatcher Tom Boushard told the village trustees Monday night.

The shootings have occurred in the Miracle Manor area.

A female sheltie, owned by Peggy Hull, 2225 Miracle

$2,800 diamond ring is missing

A one-carat diamond engagement ring valued at $2,800 was missing from The Gold Works, 24 Nameoki Village Shopping Center, a short time after a couple left the shop, it was reported at 3 p.m. Monday.

A man and woman were in the shop and the man was seen reaching behind a display case and getting a ring out while the woman stood nearby, apparently trying to conceal the act, employees told police.

At that time, the couple was confronted and two other rings near the woman's purse were retrieved. Shortly after they left, the diamond ring was found to be missing.

Employees at Walker's Jewelry, 1237 Nineteenth St., also reported Monday that a man and woman, whose description matched those involved in The Gold Works incident, came into the shop and acted suspiciously.

TRAINED AS MARINE

Marine Pvt. Keith E. Gray, son of Raymond G. and Goldie M. Gray of 3801 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, has completed 11-week recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

Ave., was found dead in the backyard of the residence Saturday at 12:20 p.m. The dog had been shot in the head.

A collie was found shot "three or four times in the leg" Sunday morning, Boushard said.

Some residents at the naming reported their pets have been limping and Boushard urged them to check the animals for pellet wounds.

In some instances, dogs have been found lying in roadways and, while it appeared they had been hit by cars, they actually were shot and left in the streets, Boushard said.

"We've got to put a stop to this immediately," he told trustees and residents.

The sheriff's office is aware of the shootings and is "keeping a look out in the area," a spokesman said. Because many of the dogs are pedigrees and valued at more than $300, shooting them is a felony, Boushard added.

He urged all residents to be especially watchful.

Realtors urge more lenient policies on delinquencies

The National Association of Realtors, concerned over record home mortgage delinquency rates, is urging policy changes that will allow mortgage lenders to exercise greater patience in home loan foreclosures.

In letters to Chairman Edwin Gray of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Chairman Edgar Calahan of the National Credit Union Administration, and Todd Conover, U.S. comptroller of the currency, Realtor President Harley W. Snyder and Executive Vice President Jack Carlson asked that federal financial regulators "exercise maximum discretion" in permitting delinquencies without foreclosure and the taking of the family home.

"Understandingly, delinquent payments increase during times of high unemployment," the National Association said. "However, improvement is now occurring, unemployment is declining and we should experience fewer delays in mortgage payments and less need for foreclosures.

"As improvement occurs, it is important for all people who service homeowners to minimize stress on families who are unable to make their monthly payments because they are unemployed."

Many lenders already are working with homeowners to resolve delinquencies without foreclosure, the association added. This commendable effort can be expanded if financial agencies use their regulatory flexibility to help owners through this transition period, the Realtors' letter said, noting that this should not jeopardize lenders' basic safety and soundness.

Lenders, who also have gone through a transition from an extended period of losses or low income to positive income, should be sensitive to difficult times and empathize with homeowners, the letter said.

GC woman reports attempted rape

A 22-year-old Granite City woman said that a man tried to rape her early this week at a drive-in movie theater in Mitchell.

The woman reported to Madison County sheriff's deputies at 11 p.m. that she was at a relative's home when friends of the relatives arrived and asked her if she wanted to go to the drive-in with them. She said the relative told her it was safe to go with the men.

The victim said that two men, whom she did not know, were in the back seat of the car, with the suspect driver. She was in the passenger seat.

After arriving at the drive-in, she said the man told her he wanted her to perform a sex act, but she refused. He then tried to force her to perform a sex act and tried to undress her. The woman said she hit him in the head with her purse and ran to the concession stand, where she called a relative to come and get her.

She was taken to a home in Granite City where she was advised not to call the police by the owner of the residence. The woman decided, however, to contact the sheriff's department. Deputies met her at the Pontoon Beach Police Department.

Woman claims negligence

A woman who says that she received improper treatment and surgery for abdominal pains at St. Elizabeth Medical Center has filed a two-count lawsuit against the hospital and Dr. Harold Toussaint.

Barbara Gitcho alleges that she suffered from abdominal pains caused by adhesions which remained "undiagnosed and untreated." When surgery was performed the condition worsened, she alleges. The suit cites negligence and carelessness on the part of SEMC personnel and Toussaint. The incident occurred April 1, 1981.

The plaintiff is seeking in excess of $15,000 in the case which was assigned to Third Circuit Judge George Moran.

New urgency for students to apply for scholarships

There is a new urgency for students planning to attend classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall to apply for their Illinois State Scholarship Commission awards as soon as possible, an SIUE spokesman warns.

The commission has reported that applications currently are running 100,000 higher than they were last year at this time, making the shortage of funds a strong possibility.

John Jonnetten, director of Student Work and Financial Assistance at the university, said students who wait too long to apply for awards may find the ISSC funds exhausted. "Those who wait too long may find there are not enough funds to go around," he said.

Students may submit any of the following forms: American College Testing Program's Family Financial Statement (ACT/FPS), College Scholarship Service's Financial Aid Form (CSS/FAF), or an Application for Federal Student Aid (AFSA), published by the U.S. Department of Education.

Application forms may be obtained from the SIUE Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance or a high school or college counselor.

To be eligible for an ISSC award, a student must be a resident of Illinois, a citizen or permanent resident of the U.S., and demonstrate financial need. New students who have made application for admission to the University this fall also are eligible if they plan to enroll at least half-time.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the SIUE Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance, 1-682-3880.

LECTURER COMES TO LISTEN. E. Barrett Prettyman Jr., center, visiting Southern Illinois University to deliver a 25th anniversary lecture sponsored by the School of Humanities, attended several classes during the day he came to speak. associate professor of philosophy. Prettyman is a general partner in the Washington, D.C., law firm of Hogan and Hartson and is author of the book, "Death and the Supreme Court." Madison Business Association picks Edwards as president

The Madison Business Association's new president, Raymond Edwards of Sterling T.V., extended his thanks to the association for their confidence in him, shown by their action in electing him as president during this month's meeting.

He expressed his thoughts by saying, "I have been reviewing the actions of this association for the past year. It is my summation that it has turned into an 'ad club.'" "We need to set goals and potentials. There are over 200 businesses in Madison. Only a small handful belong to the MBA. Even fewer participate in its activities. There is no reason at least 50 percent shouldn't be involved. "We should represent the entire business community. We need to take a good look at our city and develop a positive attitude. We have several empty buildings. They need occupants," Edwards said.

He then began a round table of thoughts and ideas. Calling on each one in turn, responses were:

Fred Barr of Reese Drugs Store — "We need to first look at our aims and our goals. In the past we have concentrated only on the retail."

Bud Clay of Farm Fresh Store — "Everyone is concerned about their business. We of the MBA need to be more widely recognized and more business brought into our community."

Margaret Lee of First National Bank in Madison — "I have not been involved in the association in the past. However I do feel we have potential. The base of the MBA should be broadened. We must have something to offer."

Helen Daley of Daley's Gifts — "I have attended all meetings since the MBA was organized. I share the belief that we need more participation. We need more businesses and fewer empty buildings."

Tillie Nornberg of Nornbergs Department Store — "We are not informed as we should be. For instance, what was the outcome of the Easter Ham Giveaway? No one seems to know anything."

Bill Critchfield of Ben

Franklin's — "We have too many empty buildings. The association needs to get going on this. The most important thing we can do."

Pauline Harris of Automotive Safety Service — "We need to try every way to get all businesses involved, not just the downtown business section."

Pauline Gushieff of Gushieff's Pepsi — "I feel I can contribute by attending the MBA meetings."

Joan Janco of Quad City Roofing — "There must be other communities in the same state we are in. What are others doing?"

Chief of Police Donald Bridick (representing Mayor Mike Sasyk) — "Membership is important. Everyone needs to take pride in his community."

Jack Friedman of Friedman's — "I feel the idea of bringing in a good outside speaker is a good one."

Nick Vasilief, Attorney — "We need to make contact with the Department of Commerce. They will supply a list of potential businesses. Watch the newspaper ads. We are ideally situated to be a 'bedrooms' city for St. Louis. Encourage those working in St. Louis to make their home here." Mr. Vasilief also expressed the belief that an idea made by the wrong person "is no good."

President Edwards thanked each one for his evaluation. He expressed his intentions of meeting with Mrs. Lee to discuss and plan a "prayer breakfast" for the future. The plan would be to invite every licensed business in Madison to attend.

Edwards also intends to set up several subcommittees to contact every business within the next two months, hoping to give them positive reasons for joining the MBA. He continues to stress, "a positive attitude is needed."

Regular MBA meetings are the second Tuesday of each month at 8 a.m. at the Madison Recreation Center. Jim Hudson will be the speaker Tuesday, May 10.

Governor prods Senate president on pension cutback

Gov. James R. Thompson has told Illinois Senate Pres. Philip J. Rock that he is seeking the support of enough Senate Democrats to resolve a deadlock in the Senate that has already cost the state treasury $10 million and will cost more unless something can be done.

"I have proposed a three-prong plan of lowering the available balance, borrowing on a short-term basis and reducing pension contributions to 51 percent of payout. The House of Representatives understood the need for endorsing my plan."

"The leadership in the House worked together in a bipartisan manner to pass Senate Bill 177. In fact, the positive roll call on this legislation was split nearly one-half between the two political parties," Thompson told Rock.

"Every day of delay costs the state resources that could be used for additional services for our constituents next year."

"Already the delay has cost the general revenue fund $10 million. This is $10 million that is lost for fiscal year 1984 to be used for other vital services."

DISORDERLY CHARGE FOLLOWS INCIDENT

While questioning a motorist in the 1400 block of Madison Avenue during the weekend, an officer alleged a vehicle occupied by two men drew alongside and the men started yelling, using obscene language.

When one man, Michael F. Dusky, 35, of 3000 E. 23rd St., alighted from the vehicle and an argument ensued between he and the motorist talking with the officer, Dusky was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. He was released after posting a $52 cash bond.

Problems with wheat this spring

By RONALD CORNWELL, County Farm Adviser

Wheat in Madison County has been affected by a variety of problems this spring.

The extended cool weather in late March and early April has resulted in some cool weather damage to wheat. The common symptom of such damage is a purpling of the wheat leaf blades.

Purpling is an indication that the wheat plant is not taking up adequate phosphorus. This is usually not due to a lack of phosphorus in the soil but due to the inability of the plant under cool weather stress to take up the element.

Wheat plants should recover from this condition as the weather warms up. Three virus diseases have been reported in wheat in Southern Illinois this spring. These are soil-borne mosaic virus, wheat spindle streak virus and barley yellow dwarf virus.

The mosaic and the spindle streak should not become major problems, since in most fields the symptoms will disappear once the field temperature increases.

Barley yellow dwarf is a disease of concern because this can result in yield losses to the wheat producer. The virus is spread by aphids, usually in the fall. There is no treatment for fields with virus disease problems.

Leaf rust is a disease that is expected to be a serious problem for wheat this spring. The leaf rust fungus has overwintered in the southern half of Illinois this year.

Conditions are right for leaf rust problems this year, with new spread occurring when the temperature is between 59 and 72 degrees.

This disease can develop rapidly if moisture is not limiting. The earlier it develops on a wheat plant, the greater the potential for yield loss.

Last year, this caused yield losses of 10 to 20 percent on susceptible varieties like Hart, Pike and some private varieties.

Wild garlic and wild onion also may be a problem this year in some wheat fields. If garlic is a serious problem, every effort should be made to control it to reduce dockage at harvest time. If a farm averages a 40-bushel wheat yield, a reduction in dockage of 20 cents per bushel would more than pay for the control.

The garlic and onion plants are perennials that sprout in the fall from underground bulbs and aerial bulbils. Both wild garlic and wild onion form aerial bulbils in May. These plants mature about the same time as wheat.

Reservations for Todoroff dinner being received

A large gathering is expected on Friday evening, May 20, when Robert Dan Todoroff is honored on his retirement from the Granite City school district.

Reservations are still being accepted by Joanne Gaurner, 2572 Waterman Ave. The telephone number is 931-3682.

The dinner and dance will be held at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville. Todoroff has chosen early retirement this spring after long service in the Granite City public school system. He conducts the band and instrumental music program at Granite City High School North.

When he taught at Coolidge Junior High School, his Latin American music ensemble students served as international good will ambassadors during summer tours of Mexico.

APPEARS IN COURT ON TWO WARRANTS

In response to the issuance of two warrants alleging failure to appear in court on a theft charge and failing to pay the fine on a charge of reckless driving, Donna Lynne Lucas, 2933 Ohio Ave., reported to Granite City police headquarters at 3:30 p.m. Monday and appeared in court the same day.

She pleaded guilty to the traffic charge and was fined $100 and costs. She entered an innocent plea on the theft charge and was released on her own recognizance.

Massa says he was duped by Brimberry's 'golden touch'

By PATHAY LUTZ
for the Press-Record

After reciting the oath to tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth, James Massa took the stand in his own defense on Tuesday. Accused of conspiring with Thomas Brimberry to defraud Stix and Co. for his personal benefit, Massa testified that he never knew that the money furnished to him by Brimberry had been stolen from the firm.

Responding to direct examination from his attorney, F. Lee Bailey, Massa said that Brimberry had been his client and personal friend for several years, and he had represented Brimberry in 15 to 20 court cases during that time. This association with Brimberry provided a basis of trust for Massa and when he accepted Brimberry's money and invested in Stix, he "assumed that the money was legitimate."

Describing Brimberry as appearing to be "a bright, intelligent man who could work with his hands," Massa related his involvement in the nursing home project proposed by Brimberry and Jerry Maeras. It was during this project, Massa told the jury, that he learned of Brimberry's "inheritance."

"It was an inheritance from an uncle from out-of-state—Pennsylvania, I believe," Massa said. "Brimberry's father was the only one in the family who had not done well."

Massa admitted knowing that the names A. E. Shaw and J. A. Miller used in the nursing home project were the maiden names of Sally Maeras and Jaanice Brimberry, but said that circumstances allowed the legal use of these names in the articles of incorporation. "In my view as an attorney, it's legal for women to use any name (maiden, former married name or other) unless it's used to defraud anyone of money that they were not entitled to," Massa explained.

The nursing home project was dropped when the license was revoked and because "everyone lost interest," Massa testified.

Massa also assumed that the directors of Stix knew that Helen Kamadulski was the maiden name of Brimberry's mother-in-law, Helen Miller, and testified that he agreed to act as trustee for a Stix account in her name because Brimberry had given him reason to believe that Mrs. Miller would not receive any money from this account unless it was in her maiden name.

Massa was to receive the interest checks from the subordinated loan made by Helen Kamadulski because Brimberry told him that Brimberry and his father-in-law to be well-provided for in the event of her husband's death. With Massa receiving the checks at his office, Massa testified, "Miller would never find out about the trust fund. Describing the agreement behind Brimberry's method, Massa said, "That was the nature of their relationship (Brimberry and Miller's)."

Massa testified that Brimberry seemed to be making a "substantial amount of money in the stock market," and Massa acted as the attorney for several of Brimberry's business ventures. He stated that he was not acting as Brimberry's "gofer" as Brimberry said, but that his verbal agreements with Brimberry allowed him to make what he thought was legitimate money.

"I was not like Jerry Maeras," he said. "I was not under Brimberry's control." Explaining that he was borrowing money from Brimberry to invest in stocks upon Brimberry's suggestion, Massa told the jury that no written agreements had been drawn because the cancelled checks from Brimberry served as proof that Brimberry had loaned him money. "He could have sued me for it or asked me to return it," Massa stated.

"He had ample proof that he gave me that money."

"Standard" customer monthly statements and financial reports led Massa to believe that his accounts with Stix were legitimate, although he testified that he questioned Brimberry when he noticed Brimberry had placed his own stocks into Massa's account on several occasions. "I questioned Brimberry about the stocks and he said, 'Your account was getting close to margin, so I put some of my stocks in to it,'" Massa explained. (When an account is close to margin, the stockholder may have to pay additional money to replace money lost to the brokerage in investments for the stockholder.)

Brimberry's "Golden Touch" made him look like "he was getting wealthier all the time," and Massa testified that he never saw the need to inform Stix of his own stock purchases was Brimberry's. "I did not consider it to be any of their business," he related to Securities and Exchange Commission Attorney Ronald Kane during cross-examination.

Kane also questioned Massa about his attempt to attain 66 percent of the shares in Stix and Massa explained that he merely wanted to "make Stix attractive (to potential buyers), like Merrill Lynch." If he held 66 percent of the shares, he could sell Stix or open new branches of the firm, Massa said.

Following Bailey's earlier contention that he had been "as surprised as the rest of the St. Louis community to read in the newspapers what Tom Brimberry had done, not only to Stix, but to a friend," Massa told the jury that his relationship with Brimberry had never struck him as cause to mistrust Brimberry. "He was never involved in anything criminal or misdeemeanor," Massa said.

In earlier testimony on Monday, several SEC agents testified with the aid of charts outlining Massa's alleged involvement in the scheme. Showing how fictitious securities were placed in Stix accounts as early as 1976, William Gaynor showed how the 10 accounts operated by Brimberry represented approximately 90 percent of Stix's income, accounting for some $41 million in "receipts."

Massa's accounts were shown to have risen substantially in their value as Massa came to control the company, according to Gaynor's testimony. In the Massa accounts alone, Gaynor explained, there was a shortage of $3.5 million.

Gaynor also testified that whether the money for the stocks came from Massa or Brimberry, the amount of money owed in interest or borrowed from Stix must still be accounted for by Massa.

Attempts made to steal six vehicles

Auto ignitions were punched, twisted or damaged by would-be car thieves who tried to steal six different vehicles, according to reports received Tuesday by Granite City police.

All the attempts were unsuccessful, but most of the vehicles sustained some damage, the owners reported.

The ignition on the auto of Jerry E. Fuller, parked in his front yard at 3147 Rodger Ave., was partly punched, with a pair of sunglasses being stolen when the attempt failed.

A locked steering mechanism prevented the car of Norma Kaleta, 3143 Rodger Ave., from being stolen when the thieves were unable to loosen the device. The vehicle was parked at the curb outside the dwelling.

Sidney French, 3228 Rodger Ave., reported at 1:20 p.m. Tuesday that his garage was entered and an attempt was made to steal his 1974 Ford pickup truck. Two fishing rods and reels and a tackle box, valued at $100, were stolen when the car theft was unsuccessful.

Attempts also were made to punch or twist off the ignition switches on an auto owned by Lori Derosselt, 1912 Johnson Road; and another parked in the driveway at the home of Joyce Dix, 1 Country Lane Court. A locked steering wheel also deterred the thieves in the latter case, the owner advised.

Some type of vise tool was used to twist off the ignition switch on a car belonging to William Townsend, 1905 Lynn Ave., he reported at 12:40 p.m. Tuesday.

had long been discussed and on July 3, 1925, a resolution was passed by the city council authorizing an accumulation of $150,000 for the purchase of a library site and building, this sum to be raised by a tax levy of $15,000 each year for 10 years, beginning with 1925.

Mr. Judd turned the first shovel of earth with a ceremony on Aug. 1, 1925, and Oct. 29, 1925, the removal of the books from the old location to the new building, equipped throughout with new furniture and fixtures and stock room, was quickly accomplished.

Constructed in a neo-classic design, the pillars at the front of the structure were cut in one piece, complemented with Palladian-style windows, and marble was used throughout the building. On Nov. 16, 1929, the formal dedication was conducted with W. F. Hardy of Decatur as principal speaker. From the 300 books first collected for the library, the total volumes had grown by this time to 14,000.

In June, 1927, Miss Elizabeth Germany was placed in charge of the children's department. She had special training in storytelling and also conducted a weekly story hour for the children.

Through the years, many books were purchased to increase the service of the library and, in 1976, a remodeling project was completed. The latest aide to the library was the organization of Friends of the Granite City Public Library, a group of residents with goals to stretch the city's tax dollars while promoting what the library has to offer. They held the first annual meeting last week at the library and elected officers.

Presently the library holds more than 80,000 books, 6,000 records, 100 audio cassettes, 80 video cassettes, 200 current magazine titles and 50 circulating art prints, according to Librarian Robert Stack.

Another historic landmark on the tour is Emerson School, the oldest school in Granite City which will be closed this June. An open house to celebrate 87 years of service to the community will be observed on the day of the tour.

The first school in the district was known as School No. 1, organized by L. P. Frohardt. This building was torn down when Emerson School opened its doors for the children of the city.

With the inauguration of using the newspaper in the curriculum, Al Wilson, principal of Emerson School at the present time, started a new concept in education. The newspaper is used as the primary textbook and lessons are prepared from that day's news. Wilson has, through the years, spoken at various state and national school-affiliated meetings on the use of newspapers in the educational field.

All former students and other residents are being invited to visit the school during the open house event.

A Ralston-Purina tent will be set up on the grounds at the back of the school to offer refreshments during the afternoon affair.

Girl, 14, says she was raped

A 14-year-old Granite City girl said she was raped after being abducted last week from the back of her car in the 2700 block of Myrtle Avenue.

The victim told Madison County sheriff's deputies that she was forced into a car by a man and driven to a rural area near the Skelly Truck Stop. She said the area was wooded and railroad tracks were near.

She said authorities the man slapped her after she got out of the car. He ordered her to undress and slapped her several times with his open hand, she said. The girl said that after the attack, she walked to the truck stop and from there walked to a relative's at Swearing-in ceremonies for Venice Park District Commissioners Earl Hogan and Calvin Ratliff were conducted at a board meeting last week.

Ratliff was elected to serve the remaining four-year unexpired term of former member John Gardner. Hogan will serve a six-year term.

In a special meeting held Monday, commissioners appointed Attorney Paul H. Lauber of Chapman and Carlson, Granite City, to oversee the $200,000 water slide and Lee Park renovation bond issue passed in the April 12 election.

An inspection of the water slide site, in addition to soil samples, will be taken soon.

In the regular business meeting, commissioners approved a summer work program to start May 2. Laborers will be hired for two-week shifts only. Residents may pick up applications from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. each weekday at the Venice Recreation Center, 323 Broadway, Venice.

Registration for the summer recreation program will be June 6 at the recreation center. The fee will be $1 for residents and $1.50 for others.

Commissioners announced the district's Independence Day carnival will be July 2 to 4. Individuals or organizations may rent booths for the three-day event for $100. No refunds will be given in case of rain.

In other business, the Venice Lions Club was granted permission to use the recreation center the first and third Thursdays of each month for meetings. The next Venice Park Board meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. May 12. For further information, the park district telephone number is 877-5153.

Former assessor celebrates 100th birthday this Sunday

Fred Klopmeier, former Fort Russell Township assessor in Madison County, will celebrate his 100th birthday Friday, April 29. Friends and relatives will help Klopmeier celebrate his centennial birthday with a party this Sunday, May 1, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Fellowship Hall of the Eden United Church of Christ in Edwardsville.

Klopmeier, who retired from farming and his dairy business in 1953, was the township assessor for 32 years until he retired from that position in 1965. He held the assessor's position for eight terms.

During his tenure as assessor, Klopmeier met many people whom later became good friends. One such person is Morris Hull, currently Ft. Russell Township clerk.

"You wouldn't believe how big an assessor he was to the township," Hull said. "To be honest, some of the township records are old and hardly legible. So, I'd have to ask someone, and Fred was the best source, about a particular piece of property or document. He'd be able to recall things right off the top of his head."

"The really remarkable thing is," Hull said, "that I'd be looking through documents days later and find what I needed. And sure enough, Fred was right."

"The man was—and still is—remarkable," Hull said. In 1909 Klopmeier married Louise Westerhold. The couple were married for 19 years, until 1928, when she died.

The following year, in 1929, he married the former Hilda

FRED KLOPMEIER

Diepholz. The couple still lives in Ft. Russell Township.

Klopmeier was born on a farm in Wood River Township, the last of nine children, on April 29, 1883, on property that is now owned by Olin Brans.

The son of Ernest and Mary Klopmeier, he later moved to Bethalto in the area that is now Cottage Hills.

For 25 years, from 1915 until 1940, before the Liberty Prairie School district merged with the Edwardsville School District, he served as the district's school director.

He is the father of three children: Darl Klopmeier of Worden; Earnest Klopmeier of Edwardsville; and Mrs. Ralph Heintkamp of Bunker Hill. He has 10 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren, and many relatives living in the Quad-City area.

New penalty for false Social Security card

A new law provides penalties ranging up to a $25,000 fine or five years' imprisonment or both for federal offenses related to the production, transfer or possession of false Social Security cards or other false identification documents.

Oliver Homes, Social Security district manager in East St. Louis, said the penalties contained in the False Identification Crime Control Act (Public Law 97-398) are in addition to those already provided under federal law related to misuse of the Social Security card.

Present federal laws, including the Social Security Act, provide for penalties ranging up to a $10,000 fine or 15 years in jail or both for misuse of the Social Security card.

However, Holmes said, the provisions only cover fraudulent use of the Social Security card for the purpose of obtaining government benefits. They do not cover possession, production or transfer of the card for other illegal purposes.

Steelers use 'long ball' to down Warriors, 5-1

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Pitcher Jim Burton of Granite City North knew he didn't have the greatest control Wednesday's Gateway East Conference game with Granite City South.

Instead, Burton had the best thing, the Granite City North defense behind him. Even though Burton gave up six hits and seven walks, the defense made sure South stranded 10 runners to give North a 5-1 win.

Burton, who won his second game against South in five days and raised his record to 3-0, admitted he couldn't do all by himself.

"I had a pretty good game, but I had some control problems in a couple of innings, but the defense got me out of trouble with a couple of double plays and some other big plays. This was really a big game for me, and I wanted to win it."

So did the rest of the Steelers. North increased its record to 8-3 for the season and 3-2 in the GEC with the win. South sank to 6-9 overall and 1-5 in the conference.

"It was a good game. We just left too many runners on base," South Coach John Modica said.

The Warriors for the record, left three runners on base in the second inning, two runners in the first, fourth and fifth innings, and one runner in the seventh inning. North's defense simply rose to the occasion to stop South.

The second inning was a prime example of South's lack of luck. Starting pitcher Mark Vanyo hit a single and Tom Stegemeier walked to put runners on first and second.

Tom Adamitis followed with a single to right, but North right fielder Terry Rujawitz quickly threw to the infield to prevent anyone from scoring. Tom Newton then hit a line drive right to shortstop Brian Levin for the third out.

The Steelers pulled off double plays in the third and sixth innings to counter walks Burton gave up earlier in those innings.

Both teams played almost errorless for the whole game, so the only way North could get around South's strong defense was by-passing the defense. The best way to by-pass a defense is with a home run.

The Steelers scored four of their five runs via the home run. In the third inning, designated hitter Jerry Booker hit a single, and catcher Daren DePew popped the ball over the left field fence to give North a 2-0 lead.

The other home run came in the fifth inning, and the home run by Rujawitz, his second home run of the year.

North also used its speed to score. In the fourth inning, Rujawitz led off with a double, Rod Hessler bunted between third base and the pitcher's mound for a hit to advance Rujawitz to third. Levin then hit single to score Rujawitz.

DePew also scored in the fifth inning for North. He walked, stole second, went to third on an error by South catcher Vince Mitchell and scored on a single by Dave Sheik.

"We're hitting the ball with power now, and we're getting excellent defense with four double plays in the last two days," North Coach Bob Stegemeier said. "Today's game was a team victory. We have a lot of good players, but no one outstanding player."

South scored its lone run in the fifth inning. Newton led off with a double, moved to third on Phil Dudak's single, and scored on Vanyo's fielder's choice.

Although Burton was having problems with his fast ball, his curve ball was working for him. He mixed his pitches almost evenly.

"He pitched a good game, and we got the big plays behind him when he did get in trouble," Stegemeier said.

Actually, the only thing South didn't do well was score. Even with the two home runs, the Warriors would have stayed in the game had they scored.

"We did everything well," Modica said. "Our fielding was good, and we got some hits. We just couldn't get the big hit to win the game. We're close, but we didn't get the job done."

South entertains Belleville West tonight on a 4 p.m. double-header at South tonight. The Steelers travel south to play at Herrin Friday at 4 p.m. and at Carbondale in a double-header Saturday at noon.

WAIT A MOMENT. Granite City North shortstop Brian Levin, left, apparently stole third base in the fifth inning of North's game with Granite City South, out of the reach of South third baseman Darrell Elmore (22). However, the third out had already been made, and the stolen base did not count. However, the Steelers won the game 5-1.

Wallace, Knepper and DeMoss are winners

By JOE SENTER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Mike Wallace, Arnie Knepper and Terry DeMoss were winners in the delayed season opener at Tri-City Speedway Friday night as the 1983 season finally got underway.

Wallace of Arnold, Mo., won the NASCAR late model stock car feature event. Mike, brother of the famous Rusty Wallace, lost little time in jumping into the lead in the first lap from his fifth place starting position. Wallace, driving his new Firebird Six, was followed by Lennie Frank and Kenny Schrader who finished second and third respectively.

Knepper of Belleville, the mighty midget feature in his Chevy 11 powered 2 car after starting in the eighth spot behind Schrader.

The Belleville native took the lead on lap three from Mike Edwards and went on to win followed by Duke DeRosa of Springfield in second. Terry Holdenfield finished third followed by Scott Hattin, fourth. Schrader dropped out because of engine problems.

DeMoss won the modified feature event in his number 99 car after fighting off the continued battle with Carl Edwards and Ron Roberts.

Edwards and Roberts, each of Columbia, Mo., were both heat winners.

Heat winners were won by Louis Jansen of Bethalto and Mike Wallace with the trophy dash going to Terry Galtner. Duke DeRosa won the first midget heat followed by Hattin. Knepper won the second midget heat with Schrader finishing second. Racing will continue every Friday night with the late models, midgets, mini modifieds and street stocks. Racers will compete under the NASCAR and Winston rules and point systems.

This Saturday, April 30, the first special night of the season is scheduled as the Skool mighty midgets. The next special event is scheduled for Wednesday, May 11, when as the outlay sprint cars visit the speedway.

Persons may begin entering the speedway at 6 p.m. when the gates open. Races begin at 8 p.m.

Tritschuh (Ever) breaks Steeler home run record

Steve Tritschuh, Granite City North's third baseman, finally broke Mike Robertson's school home run record with his eighth career home run to help guide North to a 14-4 win over Cahokia Monday.

Also on Monday, Granite City South lost 12-4 to Belleville Althoff to solidify the Crusaders' lead in the Gateway East Conference.

Not only did Tritschuh get his record-breaking home run against the Comanches, he also had a double and a triple for a total of fourth RBIs for the game.

The other Steelers made things easier for winning pitcher Dan Whitsell. The Steelers collected 15 hits off Comanche pitching.

Benny Nolan was 3-for-3 with a RBI, Brian Levin was 2-3 with a RBI, Daren DePew picked up two RBIs. All the regulars except for Kevin Patterson had a hit.

North also took advantage of seven Cahokia errors to win its fifth game of the season.

Even though Whitsell gave up nine hits, North's defense worked around the hits for the most part.

Meanwhile, Althoff continues to roll through the GEC schedule with relative ease. South couldn't take advantage of the Crusaders' five errors nor its own six hits.

Althoff scored six runs off losing pitcher Frank Dowdy in the fifth inning to break the 3-3 tie.

Dominic Griffin was 2-for-3 and hit a solo home run for South. Steve Stegemeier had two RBIs for the Warriors.

Steelers finish third

Tigers grab top honors in Madison County Meet

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — It was a long day for Granite City athletes at the Madison County Red Division track meet Tuesday. First place finishes were few and far between for both Granite City North and Granite City South.

The reason why was because of the dominance of the Edwarsville Tigers. Edwarsville won the boys meet over runner-up Alton 100-79, and the Tigers won the girls meet over second place Collinsville 94-46.

In the boys' meet, North finished third with 41 points. South was fourth with 35 points and Collinsville was last with 29 points. Alton was third in the girls' meet with 42 points. South was fourth with 38 points and North was last with 32 points.

Of all of the events in the boys and girls meets, Granite City athletes won only three events. No girl from North or South was able to finish first.

Two South athletes, Ed Cowley and Paul Whitworth, and one North athlete, Paul Ballew, finished first in their best events, the 400 meters, the pole vault and the discus respectively.

Considering the speed Edwarsville and Alton usually bring to the tournament, Cowley's win in the 400 meters could be considered somewhat as a surprise. Cowley won the race in 51.9 seconds.

"Yeah, it was a tough meet," Cowley said. "If I can keep on improving on what I have been doing, it's going to be real nice. I'm within 1.6 seconds of qualifying time for state, and I think I can make it."

Even though Cowley will eventually have to worry about better competition to make the state finals, he is sure he can qualify. He also has six inches to cut in order to qualify for the long jump.

"On a good day and good competition, he can easily run a time that would qualify for state," his coach, Dave McClain, said.

Cowley was second in the long jump with a leap of 21-1/4. Wendell Brown of Edwarsville won with 21-2. He also was fifth in the triple jump with a 41-7 effort.

The other Warrior to win his event was Whitworth, who won the pole vault with a leap of 12-6. North's Richard Moore was second with 11-0.

"I think he's quite capable of doing 14-feet this year. He switched to a heavier pole, and he has already gone 13-feet this year," McClain said. "I think we have two people who are capable of going to state this year."

Ballew was North's only winner at Tuesday's meet. His throw of 136-1 allowed the junior to edge Bealon of Alton. Ballew was also third in the shot put with a 43-11 heave.

Ballew has gradually come off an ankle injury and is almost on schedule as far as the discus is concerned. He is still off on his shot put because of the injury.

"You don't really use the muscles in the ankle I hurt that much when you throw the discus, but you do when you throw the shot, and that's why I'm behind in the shot," Ballew said.

The mile relay team of DeLarren Young, Maurice Silas, Howard and Fuller also won with their best time of the year, 3:38.

North Assistant Coach Larry Curry received the credit for Ballew's rebound. "He puts in a lot of intensity into those boys," North Coach Harry Lang said. "He knows how to draw the top performances out of the kids."

North's other weight man, John Morris, also placed in both events. He was third in the discus (134-2 1/2) and fifth in the shot put (41-0).

Other South personnel who placed were: D.D. Smith, who was second in the 300 low hurdles (46-7) and third in the 110 high hurdles (15-57) and Paul Smith, who was fourth in the high jump (6-1).

South's 3200 relay team, Steve Houston, Todd Isom, Phil Harizal and Nathan Crane, was second with 9:22.7, second to Edwarsville's 8:44.8. The 1600 relay team, Dan Sullivan, Jeff Hoos, Bill Smith and Cowley, was third with 3:42.

For the Steelers, Jim Robertson was third in the 3200 meters (10:26.6) and fourth in the 1600 meter (4:56.8). Daren Bernal was third in the 800 meters (2:09.3), David Long was third in the triple jump (43-11), fourth in the long jump (20-2 1/4), fourth in the 110 hurdles (15-7) and fifth in the 300 hurdles (43-7), and Scott Cant was fifth in both the high hurdles (16-3) and in the high jump (5-10).

North's two mile relay, David Birkhead, Tom Keelin, Doug Limbaugh and Bernal, the 800 relay, Al Prengel, John King, Tad Gorrill and David Tatum, and the 1600 relay, Bernal, Prengel, Craig Patton and Kindie, all finished fourth.

Four records were broken in the boys' meet. Edwarsville's Wendell Brown won the 110 high hurdles with a 14.7 mark. The old record was held by Tim Rozycki of North (15.0 seconds).

Gary Glaser of Edwarsville broke the record in the 100 meters by running a 10.75 race. Tracy Brown of Alton set the 200 meter time with 21.53 second effort, and Alton's Brian Smith won the high jump with a 6-9 leap, also a new record.

"I really thought the times in the sprints were wind aided," Lang said. "It's really not fair to the people who break and set those record to have the records broken by a wind-aided effort."

Although Edwarsville easily won the girls' meet, Collinsville's Pam Quarangi stole the show. Quarangi won the 1600 and 3200 meter races and set records in both races.

Quarangi, second in the 3200 at state last year, ran that race in 11:37.3. South's Lora Wiser was a distant second with 12:15.58, and South's Michelle Shoemaker was third with 13:23.32.

She won the 1600 meters with 5:15.6. Again, Wiser was second, but Shoemaker was fourth.

South's Mary Bisch held the old record in the 3200 with a 12:04.53 mark. The old record in the 1600 meters was 5:36.28 seconds.

Records in the shot put, discus, 100 meters, 200 meters, the 100 low hurdles and the mile relay were also set.

Other South girls who placed were Trish Skinner, who was second in the shot put with 29-11 and fourth in the 400 meters with 1:05.4, Ann Skinner, who was third in the 800 meters with 2:39.84, Lisa Wiser, who was third in the long jump with 15-3 and fifth in the long with 1:05.59, Mary Romine, fourth in the 400 meters with 2:44.6, and Loretta Cox, third in the shot with 29-1.

The mile relay consisting of both Trish and Ann Skinner, Romine and Lisa Wiser, was second to record setting Collinsville.

For North, Debbie Brandt was second in the discus (110-3 1/2) and fourth in the shot (27-1 1/2). Paula Rozycki was second in the 200 hurdles (31.97) and third in the 100 hurdles (16.03). Michelle Poyner was third in the high jump (4-8), Sandra Brown was third in the discus (88-4 1/2). Fifth place finishers were Angie Novesl in the 800 (2:47.35), Tracey Rose in the 200 dash (27.3) and Tracie Cottrell in the 200 hurdles (34.72).

McWhorter, Rachel Coleman, Emily McWhorter, Donna Broyles and Rose, was third with 53.24, the 800 medley, Amy Votopaul, Carla Graham, Broyles and McWhorter, was fourth with 2:09.4, and the 1600 relay, Broyles, Coleman, McWhorter and Rozycki, was fourth with 4:32.26.

Wood River edges Madison for county track title

MADISON — The Madison Trojans went into the final event of Monday's Madison County Green Division track meet with a chance to win, but had to settle for second place as they were edged out by Wood River.

With only the high jump remaining, Madison and Wood River were tied with 62 points each. The Oilers tied for first in the jump, however, and Madison was third, giving Wood River the victory.

Wood River finishes with 67 points to the Trojans' 65. Highland came in third with 44, followed by fourth-place Civic Memorial's 43 points. Triad took fifth with 40 points, Roxana was sixth with 13, Metro East Lutheran had 10 and St. Paul rounded out the field with 6 points.

Madison won a number of events, including the triple jump. Senior John Lewis took first in the triple with a jump of 41-2. Teammate Elmer Collins came in third with 40-2.

The Trojans won the 400-meter relay with a time of 46.1. The team of Rouzel Porter, Leroy Latham, Derrick Jackson and Shawn Brown beat out Wood River for first.

Brown took first for the Trojans in both the 100-meter and 200-meter dashes. He turned in a time of 11.1 in the former and ran the latter in 23 seconds, his best time of the year. Porter was fifth in the 100 meters with 11.7.

Madison set a meet record in the 800-meter relay with their time of 1:34.08. In addition, Charles Fuller took first and Santos Howard finished second in the 400-meter dash with times of 53.06 and 54.08, respectively.

The mile relay team of DeLarren Young, Maurice Silas, Howard and Fuller also won with their best time of the year, 3:38.

Other placing finishes for the Trojans included Lewis's second in the long jump and Collins's fourth in the same event. Lewis also took third in the high jump with a leap of 6-1.

Brian Pappa finished fifth in the pole vault with a mark of 10 feet. Steve Ball took fifth in the 800-meter dash with a personal best of 2:12.

The Trojans were hampered by the unavailability of George Leonard, forced to sit out because of a disciplinary action. In addition, Fuller was suffering from a slight muscle pull and did not compete in some of his usual races.

"We were disappointed that we didn't win, because we felt we were good enough," said Charles Steptoe, coach of the Trojans.

This afternoon Madison travels to Trenton to take on Weslin. Action begins at 3:30 p.m.

Warrior netters down North: ready for tourney

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South's tennis team readied itself for this weekend's Belleville East Eighth Annual Invitational Tennis Tournament in grand fashion Wednesday afternoon as the Warriors posted a 4-3 victory over cross-town Granite City North.

The pairing, at Wilson Park, was the final tennis matchup between the two schools. The Warriors improved their record to 6-3 on the season, while the Steelers fell to 2-7.

In first singles competition, South's John Menendez posted a 6-0, 7-5 victory over North's David Lipe. Menendez, who breezed to an easy first set victory, had considerable trouble in the second set.

"I don't know what happened to me in that second set," Menendez said. "I had him down five games to one and then he came back to win four in a row. I guess I just stopped playing," Menendez said. Menendez recovered, putting his game together to win his serve and break Lipe's to win the match.

Lipe, who put together beautiful shot after shot during that second set is gracious even in defeat.

"I think John must've lost his concentration. That, and I got lucky. John's just a class tennis player," Lipe said.

In second singles, South's Matt Sheridan picked up his seventh singles win in 10 matches this season with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Jesse Byrd.

The third singles match of the afternoon proved to be the afternoon's marquee match. North's David Goff dropped the first set to South's Charlie Miles and then came back to defeat Miles in the second and third sets to eventually win 6-7, 6-1, 6-2.

In fourth singles, North's Tim Black evened the team victories at two apiece as he picked up a two-set win over South's Bill Forrester, 6-0, 6-1.

In doubles competition, South's duo of Menendez and Sheridan, which have only lost once in nine outings, defeated North's Lipe and Keith Glasgow 6-1, 6-1.

In third doubles South picked up its fourth and final victory of the afternoon as Tom Hill and Jerry Lakin won a two-set decision over North's Black and David Warfield, 7-6, 6-4.

The second doubles match, which was delayed because of the lengthy Miles-Goff matchup, was tied at five games each in the first set before a thunderstorm cancelled the match. In this weekend's tournament, South is permitted two singles players and two doubles lineups. Representing the Warriors in singles competition will be Miles at first singles and Don Kattmayer in second singles.

In first doubles, the Warriors will send Menendez and Sheridan to the green tops and the Hill and Lakin duo will represent South in second doubles.

Due to the ruling of the tournament, which is the same as IHSA Regional rules, an athlete may only qualify in one event, either singles or doubles.

This year's Belleville Invitational is the biggest ever. It's the first year that 16 teams will be represented in the annual tennis affair. Last year, only 10 teams were represented.

"For a couple of years now we've been thinking of increasing the size of the tournament," Belleville East's coach and tournament director Mike Thompson said. "We might be biting off more than we can chew, but this will make it one of the premier high school tennis tournaments in Southern Illinois," Thompson said.

Some teams as far away as Springfield and others from Missouri, will compete in the tournament which will be played on both of Belleville's high school campuses as well as Belleville Area College.

In last year's tournament, the Warriors' first doubles team of Menendez and Sheridan, finished second in the tourney behind Belleville East's Cox-Farmer duo. Granite City South finished fourth in the team standings.

Action begins Friday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. Saturday action begins at 10 a.m. A seeding meeting is scheduled for Thursday evening at Belleville East High School.

McGuire Cup semi-final action begins Saturday

Several Granite City athletes will do battle on the soccer fields this weekend in Springfield's Sangamon State University as they attempt to bring home the 1983 McGuire Cup.

The team, MHC Mendoza's, earned a berth into Saturday's semi-final game with a 3-1 victory over Quincy last weekend. Granite City's opponent in the semi-final game are simply described as the Kickers-White.

The Kickers-White earned its berth into the semi-finals with a 5-0 victory over Schwanen Saturday.

The other teams in the under 19 years tournament are the Alton Optimists and the Kickers-red.

Alton, bolstered by Alton-Marquette standout John Stone, earned its berth into the semi-finals last weekend in Alton by downing Arlington Heights 7-2. The Kickers-red denied Orland Park, eliminating them from the tournament.

Both semi-final games begin at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. The winners of the Saturday's semi-final contests will play for the championship Sunday, May 1, at noon.

Saturday morning's loser's will compete Saturday afternoon at 4:30 for third-place.

Saturday's semi-final game will unquestionably be the toughest game of the season for Granite City. Why?

Numbers.

The Granite City squad will be short five athletes for the game against the Kickers. To be short, they'll be short Rich Moore and Dave Paz whom are away at college. Although both are a big asset, the team can and has played well without them.

But, there's another twist. Steve Tritschuh, the two-time Steeler All-State defenseman, will be obligated to the Steeler baseball team. Saturday, the Steiners have a doubleheader in Carbondale.

But, the plot thickens.

John Menendez and Matt Sheridan, mainstays of the 1982 Warrior championship soccer teams, similarly, are obligated to represent South in the Belleville East Invitational Tennis Tournament Saturday.

Should Granite City win the semi-final game, all athletes plan to participate in Sunday's championship game.

The Granite City team is coached by soccer enthusiast Ruben Mendoza.

MHC concludes season with Diamond Gloves

It's been a busy week for Merce Mendoza and his Mexican Honorary Commission boxing team. As some of the Granite City club's boxers have been competing in various display bouts, others are vying in Diamond Gloves action.

It all began last Saturday, April 23, in an 85-pound novice bout when 7-year-old Terry Davis won a three-round decision over Steve McClean of the South Side Boxing Club. The victory improved Davis' record to 10-5.

In another bout, Steve Gancheff lost a split decision to Scott Simon of the Carondelet Boxing Club. Gancheff's loss in the 125-pound match was only his fifth in 14 bouts.

According to Mendoza, Gancheff fought a "good fight." Mendoza said Gancheff had to "fight up" to Simon who was at least 10 pounds heavier.

In a third bout last Saturday, MHC's Chip Hagnauer lost his matchup with Andy Lynch also of the Carondelet Boxing Club. The loss dropped the 147-pound novice boxer's record to 5-1 on the season.

The previous night, Friday, April 22, MHC's Derrick Bloodworth lost a 3-2 split decision to Marcus Terry of the North County Boxing Club. The 65-pound matchup, at the 71 Sportsman's Club in St. Louis, was one of the best of the evening.

In Diamond Gloves competition Tuesday at the Wool Center in St. Louis, MHC's Joe Costoff lost a 70-pound sub-novice bout to Anthony Sullivan of the Westlawn Boxing Club.

Costoff's teammate, Davis, later dropped his 85-pound sub-novice matchup to Terrence Haley of the Pagedale Boxing Club.

The only MHC team member still in competition is Bloodworth. Bloodworth will meet Marcus Terry again in a rematch for the championship at the Auditorium in St. Louis this Saturday at 7 p.m.

The competition marks the end of the boxing season for the MHC boxers.

"It's been a good year for us," Mendoza said. "Gan-cheff, Hagnauer, Bloodworth and all the kids should be proud of the year they've had," Mendoza concluded.

Former Granite Cityan Dennis Ragan, now wrestling coach in Carbondale, has been named Wrestling Coach of the Year by the Southern Illinois Coaches Association.

"It's quite an honor to be picked by the other coaches," Ragan said. "It must mean I'm not making too many enemies in wrestling."

The 27-year-old Ragan has coached the Carbondale squad for three seasons, compiling a 29-23-1 mark in dual meets. His team had a 10-8 mark this past season.

Ragan's squad of Terrier matmen have won the South Seven conference all three years since he has been coach, and two of the three regionals.

"Our team spends a lot of hours in wrestling," Ragan said. "Besides working during the season, we do a lot of work during the summer."

Ragan also credits the Carbondale Park District wrestling program as a big key to his success with the Terriers.

"The kids have got to get that early experience if they're going to do anything in wrestling in high school," he said.

Venice's coach Ken Perkins thought things might have been different without the walks.

Without question, I think the walks were a key point. But, you can't blame anyone for that. If you stand up there and don't swing at anything, chances are you're going to get some walks."

Perkins said he didn't want to take anything away from Holbert's efforts, but Metro-East might have issued a couple of walks had it not been for Venice's aggressiveness in the batter's box.

"They've got a good pitcher in Holbert, but too, our girls are not standing in there waiting for a walk. They're swinging the bat. And some of those pitches they're hitting are necessarily strikes," Perkins said.

Venice's aggressiveness at the plate is evidenced by statistics. The Red Devillets scattered 11 hits. Metro-East managed three. Venice equaled the Knights' hit total in its three-hit three-run first inning.

Metro-East jumped out on top with a two-run first inning. Alicia Schaefer reached on the game's first walk, stole second, moved to third as Dawn Voelker reached on an infield error and later scored as the ball got past Venice's catcher Avis Wiley. Voelker also scored on a passed ball before the first half inning ended.

Venice's Rosie Harmon started the Red Devillets off strong with a single to centerfield and stole second before Cassandra White moved her around with a double. Both White and Tracy Kizeart, who reached on an error, each scored to give Venice a 3-2 lead.

Venice led until the third inning when the Knights were issued five free passes which eventually led to a five-run one-hit inning. Things may have even gotten worse for the Red Devillets if MELHIS's Kathy Anderson had been called out for entering the batter's box without her headgear.

In their have of the third Venice's closed the point spread with a solo homer to centerfield.

Through the mid-innings, Venice managed to lead the Knights with the help of Angela Marchbanks' fourth inning triple, Cassandra White's and Tracie Kizeart's singles and Rosie Harmon who reached on a single after it all, Venice moved to within a run of MELHIS, 8-7 through five innings.

That was all the offense the Red Devils could muster, however. In the final two innings, Metro-East scored four runs on one hit. In those final two innings, though, Venice issued five walks.

The Red Devillets are scheduled to take on IGC rival Worden this afternoon at 4. That game also is at home.

Ragan named SICA wrestling coach of the year

Former Granite Cityan Dennis Ragan, now wrestling coach in Carbondale, has been named Wrestling Coach of the Year by the Southern Illinois Coaches Association.

"It's quite an honor to be picked by the other coaches," Ragan said. "It must mean I'm not making too many enemies in wrestling."

The 27-year-old Ragan has coached the Carbondale squad for three seasons, compiling a 29-23-1 mark in dual meets. His team had a 10-8 mark this past season.

"Our team spends a lot of hours in wrestling," Ragan said. "Besides working during the season, we do a lot of work during the summer."

Ragan also credits the Carbondale Park District wrestling program as a big key to his success with the Terriers.

"The kids have got to get that early experience if they're going to do anything in wrestling in high school," he said.

In Ragan's first season as head coach, his squad didn't win a match in the sectional tournament. Last year, however, two Carbondale wrestlers advanced to the state meet, and four went this season.

In a pre-season poll, this past year's Carbondale squad was picked 20th in the state.

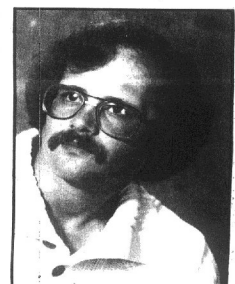

Ragan also coaches freshman football and junior varsity basketball. Prior to coming to Carbondale, he coached for one year at Florissant Valley Junior College in St. Louis before coming to Carbondale. Two of his grapplers in Missouri advanced to the national tournament.

"I hope we can keep the wrestling interest at the school going," Ragan said. "And I'm glad to see people are starting to realize what's put into it."

Ragan looks for another good team next year.

"I'm already looking forward to next year," he said. "We've got eight returning lettermen and we should again have a good team."

Among those returning lettermen are two state 1983 qualifiers.

DENNIS RAGAN

Ragan is the son of Jerry and Marilyn Ragan of Granite City. A brother, Kevin, also lives in the Quad-City area.

Two GC athletes compete in AAU hoop tourney

PUXICO, MO. — Two Granite City youths, Scott Cant and Joe Gray, both students at Granite City High School North, were among several Illinois athletes who recently competed in regional competition of the AAU Junior Olympic Under 15 basketball competition here.

According to Sportsprint coach Bill Moyer, the two were "instrumental in the team's preliminary round victories two weeks ago."

In that preliminary competition on April 9 and 10 at Belleville Area College, Sportsprint won decisive victories over two Cahokia teams and a Belleville team.

Last weekend, in regional competition, Sportsprint won its first game of the tournament with a 55-53 victory over the St. Louis Invaders. The second game, however, their team was less fortunate and eventually lost the game by three points to the host Puxico, 61-58.

"Scott was our leading center and forward. He's an excellent rebounder both offensively and defensively."

Moyer had similar praise for Gray.

"Joe is a smaller guy with a lot of punch," Moyer said. "He's our first guard off the bench—our sixth man. In a nutshell, I'd have to say he's the best passer on the team," Moyer concluded.

Cant, a 6-foot-5 sophomore, on Bill Ohlen-dorf's Steeler 1982-83 cage squad, saw a lot of action this season. Gray, 5-foot-10, was equally important on the freshmen Steeler squad.

$2,750,000 offer for Cottonwood bank

An offer by Central Banc System Inc., holding company of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, seeks all stock of Cottonwood Bank and Trust Co. of Glen Carbon. The offer will be in effect until May 20.

The proposal is $30 a share for the 55,000 shares, which had a book value of $28.69 each at the end of 1982, including loan loss reserves.

The offer is contingent on regulatory agency approvals and on the tender of at least 31,500 shares.

Mercantile Trust Co. of St. Louis will tend $1,250,000 for the stock purchase to Central Banc, which will provide the remaining $1,500,000.

Granite City Trust and Savings Bank had assets of $79 million at year-end, with 1982 earnings of $88,000, which compared to $722,000 in 1981. Cottonwood Bank assets total $22 million; it earned $202,000 last year, compared to $79,000 in 1981.

Ernest A. Karandjoff Sr. is chairman of the local bank and its holding company, E. A. "Drew" Karandjoff Jr. is president.

The Cottonwood Bank chairman and president is Elmer H. Austermann Jr., who founded that financial institution eight years ago. He worked for Mercantile Trust Co. until that time.

An offer by the Bank of Edwardsville to buy Cottonwood Bank a year ago was rejected by the Cottonwood Bank's board of directors.

Austermann also is opposed to the new proposal. He has formed a holding company, American Eagle Bancorp. Inc. of Glen Carbon, to make a competing offer.

Central Banc System says it may replace the Cottonwood Bank management if Central buys the bank. Central commented in its stock offer that a group believed to be acting with one or more Cottonwood Bank officers may have approached some shareholders with a conditional offer of $45 a share.

At a hearing in the U.S. District Court at East St. Louis, all parties agreed that the local offer would be extended from May 6 to May 20.

Austermann said the offer he plans to make will provide the choice of cash or an exchange of stock.

Trustees to open bids at township meetings

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

To "avoid confusion," the Nameoki Township Board of Trustees agreed that bids for projects at public meetings.

Trustee Helen Hawkins complained that bids were not opened when they were supposed to be. A recent set of bids for the purchase of chemicals to spray for mosquitoes was advertised to be opened at 1 p.m., but was instead opened at 4 p.m., she said.

It was explained that the bids were to be in the office by 1 p.m. and then opened at 4 p.m. Mrs. Hawkins questioned the procedure before and said she believes it is proper that bids for projects paid for with taxpayers' money be opened at township meetings, with residents present.

Mrs. Hawkins also said she is concerned about a house in State Park Place which apparently has deteriorated to the point of condemnation.

She said the health inspector did not believe he had the authority to go inside the house. A township ordinance says that proper authorities "do have the right of entry, she contended, noting that the ordinance says that authorities can enter "inside or onto" premises.

But township attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. said entry into the house is allowed only with permission of the owner, or with a search warrant. Authorities can, however, walk onto the property.

With that issue apparently resolved, Trustee W. Lee Adams commented on township employees for their work in completing a culvert to avoid flooding in the Morrison Road area.

Mrs. Hawkins, however, said that she believes Chouteau Township is partially responsible for drainage there. She also said she thinks the employees did a good job, but cited a previous agreement between the county and the two townships that such work would be shared.

"It will still flood (without cooperation from Chouteau Township)," Trustee Joe Garcia said.

It also was reported that Walter Avenue is collapsing again. It was noted that township officials are aware of that situation.

TRAFFIC WARRANT

In a court appearance this week at Granite City police headquarters, Everett Timothy Hughes, 24, of 2901 Circle Drive, arrested at home on a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a charge of reckless driving, was released on recognizance, pending a May 6 court date when sentencing will be pronounced.

BURGLARS TURN ON GAS, LIGHT CANDLE

An odor of natural gas was noticeable in the First United Presbyterian, 2160 Delmar Ave., where a burglary was discovered earlier this week. Entry was gained by prying a window in the Carillon Room.

The intruders turned on six gas burners and two ovens in a basement kitchen and lighted a candle next to the altar in the church.

The candle was still burning when the break-in was discovered, but the flame had failed to ignite the gas fumes, which remained in evidence at the time officers arrived. An inventory was being compiled to determine what items were taken, reports said.

SECURITY OFFICERS SIGN COMPLAINTS

Two state charges of assault were filed against Harry J. Wallace, 55, of 2002 Missouri Ave., in complaints signed during the weekend by security officers at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Wallace reportedly was to be admitted to the medical center, where he allegedly refused to be put into a room and created trouble for security personnel.

STEAL EQUALIZER

A graphic equalizer valued at $100 and eight cassette tapes worth $56 were taken from an auto parked in the driveway of the home of Ron Braddock, 3105 Princeton Drive, he reported at 10:40 p.m. Monday.

TAKE TRUCK TRACTOR

Cliff Gilliam of Madison reported to Granite City police during the weekend that a 1979 green and white International truck tractor was stolen from the BV & G Transport Co. lot at 1557 State St.

A second auto involved, driven by Rita J. Rybenacker of Edwardsville, was halted in traffic at the time of the mishap. Both vehicles were headed west.

Youth flees police, faces four charges

Madison County sheriff's deputies arrested a 17-year-old Mitchell youth who was injured after wrecking his motorcycle as he was being pursued by authorities during the weekend on the levee road.

Lloyd Cook, 200 Voight Place, was charged with criminal damage to state supported property, no valid registration, reckless damage and attempting to elude authorities.

Deputies allege they saw Lloyd, with a passenger, drive his motorcycle on the levee hills. He fled north at a high rate of speed toward Lewis & Clark State Park when deputies pursued him, reports said.

Authorities said Lloyd lost control of the cycle and it fell on its left side, injuring Lloyd's leg. Lloyd and his passenger, John Hollis, 17, of 313 Chouteau Ave., who was not charged, contended that the rear of the motorcycle was struck by the pursuing car.

Cook said he was traveling on the levee road when deputies started to pursue him and that he started to make a right turn into a grassy area, but as he downshifted, the motorcycle was struck by the pursuing car.

Hollis gave the same story, saying that the motorcycle was struck in the rear tire by the left bumper of the police car.

Deputies said there was no indication that either vehicle had been involved in such an accident. Cook was taken to Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville for treatment before being transported to the Madison County Jail.

PASSENGER HURT ON PONTON ROAD

Brenda Assis, 35, of 3801 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, a passenger in a vehicle operated by Sandra S. Kitchick, 3865 Rodney Drive, was injured in an accident at 6:30 p.m. Monday on Pontoon Road at Vine Boulevard. She was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

A second auto involved, driven by Rita J. Rybenacker of Edwardsville, was halted in traffic at the time of the mishap. Both vehicles were headed west.

Sasyk asks for harmony; MCC says apology is more in order

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

In the wake of the April 12 election in Madison, Mayor Mike Sasyk has issued an appeal for the city's citizens to tamp down their differences and work together for the good of Madison. The Concerned Citizens, however, feel that Sasyk's statement falls short of the public apology they have demanded from him.

The Concerned Citizens voted unanimously April 18 to have MCC President Walter "Mick" Strange write a letter to Sasyk demanding an apology for statements Sasyk made in newspapers, accusing MCC of lying about the results of a postcard survey it conducted to determine if the people of Madison wish to have cable alarm service.

When the survey came back that a majority of those responding did not wish the city to continue to spend money on the cable system, Sasyk responded in various newspaper interviews that he sincerely doubted the validity of the survey, did not believe the MCC claimed percentage of return on the postcards and hinted that one person could have filled out all the blank postcards in an hour, since the MCC asked that those responding not sign them.

April 18, 67 members of the MCC met and voted unanimously to have Strange write Sasyk and demand an apology. In Strange's letter, he wrote, "I respectfully request that you make a public apology in the press for your statements impugning the integrity of all members of this organization."

"This is a rather sad situation when the mayor of a city, in effect, calls several well-meaning people liars. I am sure that you did not mean it in the manner that it was said, or perhaps, you were misquoted as to the intent by the media."

Sasyk issued a letter Tuesday addressed to the citizens of Madison, which stated, "The election has come and gone and we want to urge the residents of Madison to bring ourselves together and work towards the same goals in making Madison a city where business industries and people would want to locate."

"Although we may have different expressions, we don't think being negative or divisiveness is going to be helpful and to the best interest of our community."

"Everyone has differences, but, if we can operate in an atmosphere of cordiality and dignity, we are confident the future of Madison will not suffer from a crisis of growth or dynamism.

"Let's all go forward with a positive accent and build a framework of dignity and cordial friendship between neighbors and political entities and strive for a relationship that will bring forth progress to our community."

"Many objectives and goals that this administration had have been completed and, in a very short time, we should announce more positive news for our community which will be beneficial to everyone."

"Again, let's build together for a future for Madison and we are sure with a spirit of cooperation and with respect for the rights and dignity of each other which should serve as a model to other cities so that everyone can see, even with differences at election time, we can, as a city together, the remainder of the time and make our city one that we can all be proud of," Sasyk concluded.

Strange said he found the statement inadequate. "He called us liars. He makes no apology at all. In no way did he recant the derogatory, untrue and vicious statements he made toward the MCC survey."

YMCA SPEAKER, State Sen. Sam Vadalabene, congratulates the Tri-Cities Area YMCA for 64 years of service to the community.

Vadalabene was the main speaker at the "Y" annual meeting Monday night at Charlie's Restaurant. In his address, entitled "Winning in Life," Vadalabene said youths should ask themselves, "What am I going to do with the greatest gift God has given any of his creatures?" He added, "We live not just for ourselves, but for God and our country." He urged the YMCA to continue to challenge youths and adults and teach them "success can be as hard to accept as failure. It is absolutely crucial to know how to be a good winner."

North Band to present final concert Monday

The Granite City High School North Band will present its final concert of the current season and the last performance before the school closes in June at 8 p.m. Monday, May 2, in the North High cafeteria.

Theme of the concert, "Ten Years — The Alpha and Omega," will feature introductory remarks by Rita Harrell, North Student Council president; North Principal Gilbert Walmsley; and Tamara Taylor, band president.

Briefly addressing the audience also will be Delton Groothuis, Harold Stoker, Donald Wilson, Edward Rakowski and Wilma Bowen. All served as president of the North High Band Parents Association during the intervening years since the group was formed a decade ago.

The event also will mark the final career concert for Band Director Robert D. Todoroff, who is retiring at the end of the current school year.

The concert will open with the Granite City High School Song, which was composed by native Granite Cityan Jack Etzel, a television personality, presently working in Pittsburgh, Pa. The number represents "Alpha" or the beginning of the school, Todoroff explained.

Other selections to be featured will include "Toccata and Fugue" by J. S. Bach; "Psalm 46," based upon the Choral melody, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God";

N. Rimsky-Korsakov; "The Golden Age of Broadway," arranged by W. Barker; themes from "Zorba the Greek" by N. Theodorakis.

"Selections from Rocky II," arranged by R. Lowden; "The George Washington Bicentennial March" by John Philip Sousa; and "Sinatra in Concert," arranged by J. Nowak, representing the Omega or final selection.

The Omega segment of the concert will spotlight the final appearance of the Steel City Belles, North High's pom-pom squad, with the presentation of a routine based upon the number, "We Got the Beat." The squad's senior leaders are Angela Rozycki and Stephanie Ryan.

Arrangements for the concert are under the auspices of the North High School Band Parents Association and its current president, Mrs. Bowen.

Admission is by season passes or tickets which will be available at the door, costing $1 each for adults and 50 cents for students. No reserved seating is planned for the final concert, it was announced.

Christian Center offers a 'heavyhands' demonstration

A free demonstration of the "Heavyhands" technique of using small hand-weights (one to five pounds) to increase the intensity of an aerobic workout while increasing upper body strength will be given at the Community Christian Center, Mondays at 9:30 a.m. and 6:45 p.m. and Wednesdays at 10:45 a.m. and 5:45 p.m. through May 5. Classes will continue at both sites for four weeks after the free demonstrations.

The concept of using free weights, small hand-weights, to enhance an aerobic workout was invented by Dr. Leonard Schwartz. Normally, in a competitive sport, participants must continually search for an opponent at the same skill level in order to get a good workout. In a non-competitive sport such as jogging, running or aerobic dance, the exercise automatically increases as one's level of fitness increases. Joggers run further and faster, and dancers perform more energetically, so the program constantly adapts to the new, higher level of fitness of the participant. The addition of weights adds another dimension. Small weights moved small distances to a slower rhythm is the first level. Then, users may increase either the weight, the size of the movement or the pace.

Women get a chance to improve. Men, who can build muscle in the upper body as well as strength, can improve an area often neglected in jogging or bicycling. Dr. Schwartz has designed specific exercises to be used in conjunction with the weights. These will be choreographed to music and demonstrated after a warm-up period. Participants are advised to wear tennis shoes and exercise clothes.

During the deployment, his ship will participate in various training exercises with other Seventh Fleet units and those of allied nations. The Roark is 438 feet long and carries a crew of 245. It is armed with guns, missiles and anti-submarine torpedoes and rockets.

GRANT, C.S.B. of Oakland, Calif., and a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship will speak at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 2560 Delmar Ave. The public is invited to attend the 8 p.m. lecture on Tuesday, May 3. His topic is entitled, "The Consciousness of the Healing Christ." Child care will be provided at the local church during the workshop hour.

May Fellowship Day at Farrar Center

May Fellowship Day 1983, has been developed by women of black origin who have served on the Common Council of Church Women United, and have brought to the worship a rich heritage stemming from the day the first slave ship arrived in Virginia in 1619. The struggle has continued from slavery to this day with dreams unfolding with women like Sojourner Truth, Harriet Tubman, Mary McLeod Bethune, Nannin Helen Burroughs, Abbie Dlement Jackson, Rosa Parks and scores of others, according to an announcement by Mrs. Nona Corzilius, president of the Quad-City Church Women United.

The annual event will be at Farrar Memorial Center on Friday, May 6, and will focus on unity and on creative and healing relationships in the local community.

Mount Nebo Baptist Church will host the observance and those attending are asked to bring a salad to serve six people for every three tickets sold. Also, everyone who plans to be present is reminded to bring canned foods for "Project Help" the food distribution program for the unemployed in the Quad-Cities, the president added.

Mrs. Corzilius said many women are interested in recipes of salads therefore she asks that each woman make 10 copies of her salad recipe to be offered for sale during the event. Proceeds from the sale will be donated to the CWU's Fund for the Fifth Decade.

The contributions for the Least Coin offering from each church will also be collected that day.

Registration is set for 9:30 a.m. and the luncheon will begin at noon, with Ethel Palm and Ola Jones serving as chairmen of the day long program.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse is Ladies Club program

Myron Schwartz, a counselor at Talbot Hall of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, was the guest speaker at the April meeting of the Ladies Club of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

For the program, Schwartz spoke on the early warning signs of teen-age drug and alcohol abuse.

President Mary Anne Svezia opened the meeting and Sister Marilyn Theresa gave the prayer. Vicki Dillard, vice-president, introduced the featured speaker for the session.

During the business segment, Carol Mangiaracino, secretary and Joan Wachter, treasurer, gave their reports of a previous meeting.

Appreciation was accorded to Bev Lenzi and Diane Gonterman for their work in the Easter flower project and to the women who cleaned the church for the Easter season. Honor was also bestowed on Kathy Ray and Mary Caudle for serving as co-chairmen of the school carnival held earlier this month.

The president announced Pat Alsop will be chairman of the game room, and Judy Bucatch will be in charge of the plant booth at the September bazaar. Members will also assist with the annual birthday party for residents at Colinet Haven Nursing Home this month.

Another project of the organization will be a pantry shower in honor of the nuns at St. Margaret Mary School for the May meeting with Diane Vivod and Rosa Zikovich to serve as co-chairmen.

The evening prize went to Mrs. Svezia and the quilt of the month to Ricky Harshany. Sister Marilyn Theresa closed the meeting with prayer and the third grade room mothers served refreshments to 22 members.

Continuing campaign at First Baptist

The second of five programs, sponsored by the First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, will be a combined Sunday School assembly at 9:30 a.m. in the church sanctuary, Sunday, May 1, according to Denise Wright, Sunday School Director.

Ken Lee, guest dramatist, will portray "There Is Room" a one-man music-drama characterizing the eternal changes Jesus made in common everyday people like Zaccheus, the outcast, the mercenary innkeeper, the eccentric temple merchant and Barabbas, the revolutionary, Mrs. Wright explained.

KEN LEE

Born and reared in the inner-city of Kansas City, Mo., Lee graduated from high school and then completed his Bachelor of Arts Degree in Speech Education. He studied music at Washington University in St. Louis, and has completed his master's degree in theatre at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

He has portrayed Christian drama in churches of many denominations as well as making radio and television appearances in 18 states. Lee also will be guest soloist during the 10:43 a.m. worship hour.

The third program will feature a movie during the Sunday School hour with special recognition accorded to the women attending.

Tom Burch of Webster Groves, Mo. will bring his bagpipe and share the history and music of the instrument at 9:30 a.m. on the fourth Sunday, May 15. He will speak first with the preschool children, and junior and senior high departments in the morning, and during the 10:40 a.m. worship service will perform special musical selections.

The final Sunday of the Enlargement Campaign will be a balloon launch at 10:20 a.m. following the 9:30 a.m. Sunday School Bible Study, on the church parking lot.

Beruit conflict is ministerial topic

Dr. William Koshewa, a conference minister of the United Church of Christ in Southern Illinois, will give an eye-witness report of the fighting in Beirut, Lebanon, and show slides to illustrate his presentation. The program will be given on Monday, May 9, at the monthly meeting of the Quad-Cities Ministerial Association according to the Rev. Don F. Pierson, spokesman for the group. The ministers will meet at 12 p.m. in Paskal Hall of St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

In addition to the program on Beirut, the clergymen will also be given an update on some of the community efforts aimed at ministering to the needs of the unemployed. A listing of groups and agencies offering services to the unemployed is being compiled for the Quad-City area, states Rev. Pierson. "If you know of some of these services, call President Louis Frick at the Niedringhaus Methodist Church (877-4555) or myself at the N a m e o k i Presbyterian Church (877-4470)," he added.

The annual summer picnic pollock for the ministers and their spouses will be held in June as an informal fellowship event for the area's clergy and their families. The group also reminds area churches of the annual May Fellowship, sponsored by Church Women United, to take place on Friday, May 6, starting at 9:30 a.m. A salad luncheon will be served at noon and the ticket is $2. The event will take place in the Farrar Memorial Center in West Madison.

Church Women United to attend assembly

Many members of the Quad-City Church Women United organization plan to attend the 1983 CWU in Illinois State Assembly scheduled for May 16, 17 and 18th in Rockford, Ill. Mrs. Nona Corzilius announces.

The theme for the 3-day event will be, "The World in Our Midst," and will feature workshops dealing with the theme. Topics of the workshops include, "UN Global Concern," "Wells in the Local Unit," led by Mrs. Marie Gordon, a local minister, "Peace and Justice," "Fund for the Fifth Decade," "Hospice Program," "Women Helping in Prison Work," "Re-Assignment Race, Ecumenical Action," "Drug Abuse," and "The Power to Heal."

Another program, which was well received in this area in September, related to the needs of the elderly, will be the "Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville," an announcement of a workshop series entitled, "Impact of the Elderly On Your World." The series is designed to provide a guide to the establishment of understanding and successful relationships with older adults, whether they are relatives, clients, customers, congregation or friends.

The workshop will be conducted on May 5, 12, and 19th from 6:30 to 9 p.m. and cover such subjects as, Holistic Health Practices for Adults and Aging Persons, on May 5; Managing Relationships Conflicts, May 12; Physical Management of the Elderly at Home and Elsewhere on May 19.

This series is sponsored by the School of Nursing, the Gerontology Program and the office of Continuing Education at SIUE. The fee is $20 includes all three workshops, materials, parking and coffee breaks. Mrs. Margaret "Nan" Henderson, a member of the local unit, will be one of the workshop leaders.

For further information or registration, those interested are advised to contact Mark Serich at 696-3210.

Covenant Players to perform Sunday night

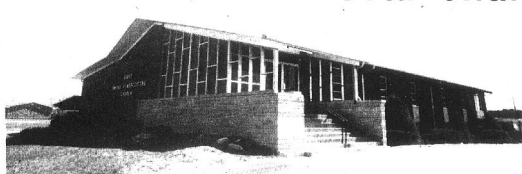

The congregations of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church and the First United Presbyterian Church will host a performance by The Covenant Players at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

A program centered around "The Christian Family" will be presented by the international repertory music and drama group, as they utilize a unique kind of drama, according to the Rev. Louis Frick, host pastor.

The Covenant Players use a range from light comedy to heavy drama, science, fiction and Biblical characterizations as they present their message, Rev. Frick added.

Area residents are being invited by both churches to attend the performance to be given at Niedringhaus Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue. Following the dramatization, there will be refreshments served in the church hall.

Women's Aglow to meet Thursday

The Rev. Ronald L. Johnson and his wife, Marsha, will be guest speakers at the Women's Aglow Fellowship meeting on Thursday, May 5, at the Community Christian Center, 2801 Marshall Ave.

Rev. Johnson is pastor of the Full Gospel Baptist Church, in Granite City. He received his Bachelor Degree in Biblical studies from Central Bible College in Springfield, Mo.

A fellowship hour will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the meeting will start at 10 a.m., according to Betty Bartholmey, president of the host organization.

An intercessory prayer meeting is scheduled for Monday, May 2, at the home of Rose McMillan, 11 Lakeview Drive at 10 o'clock in the morning, the president added.

Son-Life Fellowship to show prison film

"God's Prison Gang," a newly released film featuring Al Capone's getaway driver, the last member of Bonnie and Clyde's gang and two other notorious criminals who have become Christians, will be shown at Son-Life Fellowship, 1203 Vandavia, Collinsville, Sunday, May 1, at 7 p.m.

The film, shot behind the walls of New York's Attica prison, is hosted by Art Linkletter. It tells the story of how the work of International Prison Ministry is accomplishing what more guards, higher prison walls and greater financial expenditures have failed to do—keep released inmates from returning to lives of crime.

Telling their stories in the 44-minute film are George Meyer, Al Capone's favorite driver; Floyd Hamilton, (Public Enemy No. 1) the last of the Bonnie and Clyde Gang; Jerry Graham, the "robber king" of California; and Ted Jefferson, convicted of crimes from drugs and robbery to murder.

Also featured is "Chaplain Ray," whose Dallas-based International Prison Ministry has changed the lives of thousands of inmates over the past 18 years.

Lydia Circle plans banquet

Various programs and projects were discussed by members of the Lydia Circle of Nameoiki United Methodist Church, at the April meeting hosted by Mrs. Marie Long, in her home.

The first event will be the mother and daughter banquet set for May 9 at the church, and entertaining the residents of Colonial Haven Nursing Home on May 23, was also discussed. Donations of cakes and small gifts is needed to honor the nursing home residents on their birthdays and provide necessary items for their care, Mrs. Marie Bailey, chairman, noted.

A rummage sale as the next fund-raising project will be conducted on May 14, the chairman added.

Mrs. Bailey opened the meeting by reading "Do You Deserve It?" by Roedell Marks, an article taken from the Upper Room magazine. Officer reports were submitted and approved and get-well cards were sent to church members.

Mrs. Thara Erney read, "Doing What Comes Naturally," from the booklet Our Daily Bread. She also read from the booklet Highway Directions for finding the Will of God by Jerry Paulson.

Mrs. Gladys Russell read religious quotations she collected from various publications and people, and a poem, "After the Winter-God Sends the Spring" by Helen Steiner Rice was given by Marie Isenbary.

Closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Bailey. Others attending were Dorothy Sinnott, Mildred Hess and Mrs. Russell's granddaughter, Melissa.

Suit contends Johnson Road zoning decision unreasonable

A Granite City couple denied a commercial zoning change for their Johnson Road property have filed suit charging the city was unfair in its decision.

Nancy and John Jones, 1535 Clark Ave., have asked the Madison County Circuit Court to permit them to use their residential property at 2133 Johnson Road for any purpose allowed in a commercial zone.

They had originally asked the city to rezone the Johnson Road property from R-1 (single-family residential zone) to C-1 (commercial office zone).

The request had been denied twice — once in 1981 and again this year — by the city's Plan Commission, an advisory group, and was later turned down by the city council.

Fred Cunningham, Plan commissioner, said at a recent board meeting, that prior to the passage of the city's 1981 zoning ordinance, residents made the city aware, through a series of public meetings, that they wanted the residential sections of Johnson Road to be restricted from commercial use.

Jones' court petition states that Johnson Road is a "major highway (and) that there is a concentration of commercial operations on Johnson Road with the location of numerous commercial establishments in the general neighborhood."

It says the zoning decision ignores the general character of the neighborhood and deprives them of the best use of their property.

Jones had told the Plan Commission he wanted the telephone communications business from the Johnson Road location. He had presented a petition with 12 signatures, including four from commercial businesses, backing his proposal.

Commissioners, however, decided the zone change would "decrease the character of an established residential area" and open the property to a variety of commercial uses, including apartment buildings.

According to both Cunningham and Michael DeRuntz, city engineering employee, both received four calls each objecting to the change. Two residents, Edward Laub, 3278 Westchester Drive, and William Rutter, 2134 Johnson Road, opposed the change at the Plan Commission hearing.

persuade Greathouse to vote favorably on a zoning issue involving land owned by Nichols.

Greathouse, who returned the money to Barton and voted against Nichols' zoning request, was indicted on charges of official misconduct, conspiracy to commit bribery and failure to report a bribe. A date has not been set on a motion filed by his attorney, Bruce Cook, to dismiss those charges.

Both Barton and Greathouse have denied any wrongdoing. Nichols has been granted immunity from prosecution in exchange for his testimony.

2 WOMEN STEAL BARBECUE GRILL

Two women walked into the rear yard of a home in the 1900 block of Benton Street and returned to their car, parked in a nearby alley, carrying a kettle-style barbecue grill, police were advised at 12:55 a.m. Tuesday.

The vehicle was driven north through the alley with the grill open and the grill and other items in the trunk exposed. Later, an officer found the lid to the grill at 20th Street and the railroad tracks.

Sen. Percy says natural gas prices must come down more

U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) said that Panhandle must take additional steps to bring down its gas prices before then.

Percy said, "Reductions in imported Canadian and Algerian gas would significantly contribute to lower Panhandle prices. This imported gas, especially the Algerian gas — is way overpriced. We must get those prices down, or stop bringing in this gas when we do not need it."

When the price of the Algerian gas was high, Percy intervened with FERC and the Department of Energy to fight the continued import of high-priced Algerian gas. He also introduced legislation to bring down the price of this gas to fair-market levels. During the last few months, Percy has met with officials from Canada and Algeria to emphasize Congressional concern over the continued high prices for these imports.

Percy also held a hearing on the gas import problem on Feb. 28, 1983, and has introduced a Senate resolution passed by the Foreign Relations Committee calling on the secretary of state, with the assistance, to immediately press foreign nations that export natural gas to the United States to re-establish fair market conditions and lower prices.

"With Canada's action, and Panhandle's announcement, we're starting to make progress in reducing natural gas prices," Percy said. "But there is still more that needs to be done before consumers will see real and lasting improvements in their gas bills."

Earlier this month, Canada announced an immediate 11 percent price cut in gas it delivers to the United States.

Students learned to operate and maintain fire fighting equipment, including fire trucks, and to use special rescue tools.

Barton hearing continues

A defense motion to dismiss official misconduct, bribery and conspiracy charges against Madison County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton will continue today at 1:30 p.m.

The continuance of the hearing was granted Monday by Chief Associate Judge Edward Ferguson to give prosecutors and defense time to reach an agreement on evidence presented.

Marvin Darling, former administrative assistant to State's Attorney Don Weber, was the only witness to testify at the hearing Monday. He testified that Weber said he would eventually "get" Barton.

The motion to dismiss charges says that they are based on "incompetent" evidence. The motion, filed by defense lawyer J. William Lucco, of Edwardsville, also claims that the statutes cited in the charges are unconstitutional because they are "vague and overbroad."

Barton allegedly accepted a $1,000 bribe from Horseshoe Lake area landowner William Nichols to share with Walter "Shang" Greathouse, president of the Metro-East Sanitary District and a member of the zoning board of appeals. The money allegedly was intended to Law Day observances Friday to include mock trials at schools

Mock trials at Granite City High Schools North and South, Madison, Venice and Collinsville high schools and the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville are among the activities tomorrow honoring Law Day.

"Technically, Law Day is always observed May 1, but it is being observed here Friday, since May 1 is a Sunday."

"The Madison County Bar Association makes an annual presentation to a layman who has aided the public in understanding the law and has chosen Irving Dilliard to receive this year's Liberty Bell Award. Dilliard, a Collinsville resident, is the former editor of the editorial page of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and is a former Princeton University professor."

"He is being honored for his many contributions over the years to the general public and the legal community," a spokesman said.

"Dilliard has written many articles and books on the Constitution, the law and the practices of the Supreme Court."

"Granite City attorney Burton Bernard was head of the committee which selected Dilliard for this year's honor."

"The award will be

LAW DAY USA MAY 1

presented during a gathering at 10:45 a.m. Friday in the Oak and Hackberry rooms in the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Also on the program will be a debate on "Should there be a privilege to prevent disclosure of sources of information obtained by media representatives?" On the "pro" side of the issue will be James Lawrence, assistant editor of the editorial page of the Post-Dispatch. The "con" side will be handled by Rudolph C. Hasi, dean of the St. Louis University School of Law.

The public is being invited to attend the program and reception.

Mock trials presented by the Tri-City Bar Association at the area high schools will be conducted Friday morning.

According to Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand, chairman of Law Day activities for the Tri-City Bar, the theme of this year's observance is "Sharing in Justice." He said, "Each citizen should be advised of and encouraged to participate in his democracy."

Judge Hildebrand said Law Day also will focus on several ongoing programs of the Tri-City Bar Association. A speakers' bureau is being established which will provide attorneys and judges for civics classes at high schools and for any group requesting a speaker.

Another project, Bar Association classes for United Way AFL-CIO labor groups, are continuing and a class is just concluding. It started in mid March. The classes discuss wills, estates, family and criminal law, small claims and a variety of subjects. The session which just concluded utilized six lawyers and a judge as teachers and speakers.

Judge Hildebrand said Law Day also will serve as a kickoff for a new committee charged with implementing a program of community service work in lieu of fines. In a previous Press-Record article, the judge said he feels a program could be established so that unemployed persons wishing to work out their court-imposed fines could work in the community, picking up trash, assisting in parks or in other projects to aid the community.

Finding volunteer supervisors for the work crews is the main task in establishing such a program, he said. Judge Hildebrand has appointed himself, Tom Hill, Irvin C. Slate Jr. and Robert Bosslett to the committee.

Workshops on impact of the elderly planned

"The Impact of the Elderly on Your World" is the theme of a series of three workshops to be presented during coming weeks at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The registration deadline is Saturday.

The workshops are "designed to assist in building successful relationships with aging relatives, consumers, and clients," according to an informational pamphlet. The workshops will focus on holistic health techniques for the aging, physical management of the elderly and management of relationship conflicts involving adults and aging parents.

All three of the workshops will be in the Mississippi Illinois Room on the second floor of the University Center, Thursday evenings, May 5, 12 and 19, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The first workshop of the series will focus on holistic health practices for the aging. Gloria Perry, associate professor in the SIUE School of Nursing, will lead the discussion.

The second workshop will be conducted by Margaret Henderson of the Interdisciplinary Graduate Certificate Program in Gerontology at SIUE, and will examine the management of relationship conflicts involving an aging relative.

Michelle Carapella of Home Health Services, Inc., of St. Louis County, will conduct the third seminar on the physical management of the elderly at home and elsewhere. The workshop will include an exhibit of medical equipment.

The cost of the workshop series is $20. Students may attend the workshop for $10. The cost includes parking and coffee breaks.

The workshop series is sponsored by the SIUE Office of Continuing Education, the School of Nursing and the Gerontology Program. For more information, interested persons may call Reba Klenke at the Office of Continuing Education, 1-692-3210.

Proposed merger of alcohol and drug groups OK'd

Two alcohol-drug abuse agencies in Madison County have announced their decision to merge into a single agency, following recent approval by their respective boards of directors.

Aid through Information on Drugs (AID) of Collinsville and Piasa Health Care have agreed to consolidate their projects and services under the name of the Piasa Health Care, pending final clearance with their funding sources. The Health Care currently has offices in Alton, Wood River, Granite City, Edwardsville and Highland.

AID project director Ruth Cohen Kubicek stated that the decision to consolidate was made "in the interest of achieving a more efficient and effective system of alcohol-drug abuse services to the Madison County community."

Under the terms of the merger agreement, AID's services in Collinsville will gradually be extended to the rest of Madison County. Piasa Health Care's programs, including a licensed alcoholism treatment program, will be made available to the Collinsville area.

Piasa Health Care Executive Director Chuck Buchana said that consolidation will include an upgrading of the Collinsville facility by moving the AID staff from the present quarters at 412 Vanolia St. to a newly-remodeled office building at 1315 Vandalia.

Buchana stated that the agency also will share conference rooms and clerical support services in the new offices with a third agency, Mental Health Services of Southern Madison County, as part of their overall cost-containment procedures.

According to Ruth Kubicek, the new facility will meet state fire-safety standards and licensing regulations of the Illinois Department of Public Health, whereas AID's current offices do not.

While the consolidation and relocation of AID staff will not result in an immediate cost reduction, agency officials hope to be able to maintain better control over future cost increases through the operation of one alcohol-drug agency instead of two.

The merger already has been sanctioned by the Madison County Community Mental Health Board and by the Region Four office of the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities. Approval also is being sought from the Illinois Dangerous Drugs Commission and the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

Both AID and Piasa Health Care are non-profit organizations governed by a voluntary board of directors. The merger also calls for two AID board members to be appointed to the Piasa Health Care board of directors.
